Masked Obsession Part I The Masquerade Series Book 1:

Goethe, Nietzsche, and Wagner T. K. Seung, 2006-03-27 The author reads Goethe's Faust as the first epic written under Spinoza's influence. He shows how its thematic development is governed by Spinoza's pantheistic naturalism. He further contends that Wagner and Nietzsche have tried to surpass their mentor Goethe's work by writing their own Spinozan epics of love and power in The Ring of the Nibelung and Thus Spoke Zarathustra. These Spinozan epics are designed to succeed the Christian epics in the Western literary tradition. Whereas the Christian epics dared to groom human beings for their destiny in the supernatural world, the Spinozan epics try to reinstate humanity as the children of Mother Nature and overcome their alienation from the natural world which had been dictated by the long reign of Christianity. However, it has been well noted that none of these new epics seems to hang together thematically as a coherent work. By his Spinozan reading, the author not only demonstrates the thematic unity of each of them singly but further illustrates their thematic relation with each other.

Masquerade Vincent L. Wimbush, 2023-06-05 Continuing his project of critical analysis of the scriptural formation of culture, Vincent L. Wimbush has gathered in this book essays by scholars of various backgrounds and orientations who focus in different registers on the theme of masquerade as the play element in modern culture. Masquerade functions as a window onto the mimetic performances, dynamics, arrangements, psychologies, and politics, scripturalizing by which the made-up becomes fixed or one among our realities, scripturalization. Modern world racialization and its attendant explosions into racialisms and racisms as the hyper-scripturalization of difference in human flesh registered in psychosocial relations as a type of scripture is argued in this book to be one of the most consequential examples and reflections of masquerade and thereby one of the primary impetuses behind and determinants of the shape of the realities of modernities. The open window onto these realities is facilitated by touchstone references to not exhaustive treatment of a now famous eighteenth-century life story, The Interesting Narrative of the Life of Olaudah Equiano or Gustavus Vassa the African, Written by Himself (1789). This story, told by a complexly positioned Black-fleshed self-acknowledged ex-slave stranger, is itself a mask, one that throws light on the predominantly white Anglophone world as masking as scriptural formation. Equiano Vassa's story as masking helps make a compelling case for analyzing through Black flesh the ongoing shaping of the modern and the perduring mixed if not also devastating consequences.

Masquerade Michael David-Fox, 1999 New York Magazine, 1992-08-03 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.
