

Documentation of Face to Face Encounter

Patient Name:

Jane Doe

ABHS PID:

00234

Date of Birth:

06/11/43

I certify that this patient is under my care and that I, or a nurse practitioner or physician's assistant working with me, had a face-to-face encounter that meets the physician face-to-face encounter requirements with this patient on: 03 09 2011

(Month)

(Day)

(Year)

The encounter with the patient was in whole, or in part, for the following medical condition, which is the primary reason for home health care (i.e. medical condition):

Exacerbation of CHF

I certify that, based on my findings, the following services are medically necessary home health services (Check all that apply):

☒ Nursing

☒ Physical therapy

☐ Speech language pathology

My clinical findings support the need for the above services because: Patient admitted to hospital with exacerbation of CHF. EF 35% requiring O2, diuresis and medication adjustment. Will require additional medication management and monitoring and therapy for gait training.

Further, I certify that my clinical findings support that this patient is homebound (i.e. absences from home require considerable and taxing effort and are for medical reasons or religious services or infrequently or of short duration when for other reasons) because: Patient is SOB with distances greater than 20 feet, requires O2 and assistive device for ambulation. Stage IV CHF.

Guidelines for Open Pit Slope Design in Weak Rocks Derek Martin,Peter Stacey,2018-01-10 Weak rocks encountered in open pit mines cover a wide variety of materials with properties ranging between soil and rock As such they can provide a significant challenge for the slope designer For these materials the mass strength can be the primary control in the design of the pit slopes although structures can also play an important role Because of the typically weak nature of the materials groundwater and surface water can also have a controlling influence on stability Guidelines for Open Pit Slope Design in Weak Rocks is a companion to Guidelines for Open Pit Slope Design which was published in 2009 and dealt primarily with strong rocks Both books were commissioned under the Large Open Pit LOP project which is sponsored by major mining companies These books provide summaries of the current state of practice for the design implementation and assessment of slopes in open pits with a view to meeting the requirements of safety as well as the recovery of anticipated ore reserves This book which follows the general cycle of the slope design process for open pits contains 12 chapters These chapters were compiled and written by industry experts and contain a large number of case histories The initial chapters address field data collection the critical aspects of determining the strength of weak rocks the role of groundwater in weak rock slope stability and slope design considerations which can differ somewhat from those applied to strong rock. The subsequent chapters address the principal weak rock types that are encountered in open pit mines including cemented colluvial sediments, weak sedimentary mudstone, rocks, soft coals and chalk, weak limestone, saprolite, soft iron ores and other leached rocks and hydrothermally altered rocks. A final chapter deals with design implementation aspects including mine planning, monitoring, surface water control and closure of weak rock slopes. As with the other books in this series, Guidelines for Open Pit Slope Design in Weak Rocks provides guidance to practitioners involved in the design and implementation of open pit slopes, particularly geotechnical engineers, mining engineers, geologists and other personnel working at operating mines.
