Facebook Nation Total Information Awareness:

Facebook Nation Newton Lee, 2014-10-16 Facebook's psychological experiments and Edward Snowden's NSA leaks epitomize a world of increasing information awareness in the social media ecosystem. With over a billion monthly active users, Facebook as a nation is overtaking China as the largest country in the world. President Barack Obama in his 2011 State of the Union Address called America the nation of Edison and the Wright brothers and of Google and Facebook. U.S. Chief Information Officer Steven VanRoekel opines that America has become a Facebook nation that demands increased transparency and interactivity from the federal government. Ubiquitous social networks such as Facebook, Google, Twitter, and YouTube are creating the technologies, infrastructures, and big data necessary for Total Information Awareness, a controversial surveillance program proposed by DARPA after the 9/11 attacks. NSA's secret PRISM program has reinvigorated WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange's accusation that Facebook is the most appalling spying machine that has ever been invented. Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg once said, "We exist at the intersection of technology and social issues." This book offers discourse and practical advice on the privacy issue in the age of big data, business intelligence in social media, e-government, and e-activism, as well as personal total information awareness. This expanded edition also includes insights from Wikipedian Emily Temple Wood and Facebook ROI experts Dennis Yu and Alex Houg. Facebook Nation Newton Lee, 2022-02-02 This book explores total information awareness empowered by social media. At the FBI Citizens Academy in February 2021, I asked the FBI about the January 6 Capitol riot organized on social media that led to the unprecedented ban of a sitting U.S. President by all major social networks. In March 2021, Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg, Google CEO Sundar Pichai, and Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey appeared before Congress to face criticism about their handling of misinformation and online extremism that culminated in the storming of Capitol Hill. With more than three billion monthly active users, Facebook's family of apps is by far the world's largest social network. Facebook as a nation is bigger than the top three most populous countries in the world: China, India, and the United States. Social media has enabled its users to inform and misinform the public, to appease and disrupt Wall Street, to mitigate and exacerbate the COVID-19 pandemic, and to unite and divide a country. Mark Zuckerberg once said, "We exist at the intersection of technology and social issues." He should have heeded his own words. In October 2021, former Facebook manager turned whistleblower Frances Haugen testified at the U.S. Senate that Facebook's products harm children, stoke division, and weaken our democracy. This book offers discourse and practical advice on information and misinformation, cybersecurity, and privacy issues, cryptocurrency, and business intelligence, social media marketing, and caveats to e-government and e-activism, as well as the pros and cons of total information awareness, including the Edward Snowden leaks. Highly recommended. T.D. Richardson, Choice Magazine. A great book for social media experts. Will M. AdWeek. Parents, in particular, would be well advised to make this book compulsory reading for their teenage children. David B. Henderson, ACM Computing Reviews. Counterterrorism and Cybersecurity

Big data sensor networks rolling newsfeeds today we are constantly surrounded by communication technologies mapping and remapping the complexity of our interconnected planet But one technology has been overlooked the poem This book tells the story of how over the century authors and readers reinvented poetry as a form of macro scale imagination able to capture the speed and scope of global capitalist society when all other media fall short It also asks what that story tells us today why have we been so keen to picture poetry as a kind of global information system a picture I call epic reading What may have been lost This story it turns out takes us back to the years just before the First World War when new media and new horizons threatened to leave poetry behind but also opened up a new space of imaginative possibilities that it turned out poetic technique was uniquely able to navigate It also takes us back to turn of the century France and more specifically to Paris the capital of the nineteenth century where the poet Guillaume Apollinaire articulated more clearly than anyone the challenges of imaginative scale that the coming twentieth century would bring The book follows Apollinaire s ideas across the Atlantic and shows how and why his work became a vital source of inspiration for American poets through the era of American imperialism and into the present day Threading together Apollinaire s work in the 1910s with that of three of his American successors Louis Zukofsky in the 1930s Allen Ginsberg in the 1950s and Alice Notley starting in the 1970s it examines why this specific strand of poetic tradition and method has proved so vital to our cultural ideas a hundred years later of what poetry can do and of what one individual can imagine Thinking Big Data in Geography Jim Thatcher, 2018 Thinking Big Data in Geography offers a practical state of the field overview of big data as both a means and an object of research with essays from prominent and emerging scholars such as Rob Kitchin Renee Sieber and Mark Graham Part 1 explores how the advent of geoweb technologies and big data sets has influenced some of geography s major subdisciplines urban politics and political economy human environment interactions and geographic information sciences Part 2 addresses how the geographic study of big data has implications for other disciplinary fields notably the digital humanities and the study of social justice The volume concludes with theoretical applications of the geoweb and big data as they pertain to society as a whole examining the ways in which user generated data come into the world and are complicit in its unfolding The contributors raise caution regarding the use of spatial big data citing issues of accuracy surveillance and privacy

Social Media in Industrial China Xinyuan Wang, 2016-09-13 Life outside the mobile phone is unbearable Lily 19 factory worker Described as the biggest migration in human history an estimated 250 million Chinese people have left their villages in recent decades to live and work in urban areas Xinyuan Wang spent 15 months living among a community of these migrants in a small factory town in southeast China to track their use of social media It was here she witnessed a second migration taking place a movement from offline to online As Wang argues this is not simply a convenient analogy but represents the convergence of two phenomena as profound and consequential as each other where the online world now provides a home for the migrant workers who feel otherwise homeless Wang s fascinating study explores the full range of preconceptions commonly held about Chinese people their relationship with education with family with politics with home and argues why for this vast population it is time to reassess what we think we know about contemporary China and the evolving role of social media
