Bad News Rob Brotherton, 2020-05-14 From the bestselling author of Suspicious Minds There was a time when the news came once a day in the morning newspaper A time when the only way to see what was happening around the world was to catch the latest newsreel at the movies Times have changed Now we re inundated The news is no longer confined to a radio in the living room or to a nightly half hour timeslot on the television Pundits pontificate on news networks 24 hours a day We carry the news with us getting instant alerts about events around the globe Yet despite this unprecedented abundance of information it seems increasingly difficult to know what s true and what s not In Bad News Rob Brotherton delves into the psychology of news reviewing how the latest research can help navigate this supposedly post truth world Which buzzwords describe psychological reality and which are empty sound bites How much of this news is unprecedented and how much is business as usual Are we doomed to fall for fake news or is fake news fake news There has been considerable psychological research into the fundamental questions underlying this phenomenon How do we form our beliefs and why do we end up believing things that are wrong How much information can we possibly process and what is the internet doing to our attention spans Ultimately this book answers one of the greatest questions of the age how can we all be smarter consumers of news

The Gamification of Digital Journalism David O. Dowling,2020-11-23 This book examines the brief yet accelerated evolution of newsgames a genre that has emerged from puzzles quizzes and interactives augmenting digital journalism into full fledged immersive video games from open world designs to virtual reality experiences Critics have raised questions about the credibility and ethics of transforming serious news stories of political consequence into entertainment media and the risks of trivializing grave and catastrophic events into mere games Dowling explores both the negatives of newsgames and how the use of entertainment media forms and their narrative methods mainly associated with fiction can add new and potentially more powerful meaning to news than traditional formats allow The book also explores how industrial and cultural shifts in the digital publishing industry have enabled newsgames to evolve in a manner that strengthens certain core principles of journalism particularly advocacy on behalf of marginalized and oppressed groups Cutting edge and thoughtful The Gamification of Digital Journalism is a must read for scholars researchers and practitioners interested in multimedia journalism and immersive storytelling

Mass Mobilization in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, 1945-1960 Alec Holcombe,2020-04-30 Immediately after its founding by H Ch Minh in September 1945 the Democratic Republic of Vietnam DRV faced challenges from rival Vietnamese political organizations and from a France determined to rebuild her empire after the humiliations of WWII H with strategic genius courageous maneuver and good fortune was able to delay full scale war with France for sixteen months in the northern half of the country This was enough time for his Communist Party under the cover of its Vietminh front organization to neutralize domestic rivals and install the rough framework of an independent state That fledgling state became a weapon of war when the DRV and France finally came to blows in Hanoi during December of 1946 marking the official beginning of the First Indochina War With few economic resources at their disposal H and his comrades needed to mobilize an enormous and free contribution in manpower and rice from DRV controlled regions

Extracting that contribution during the war's early days was primarily a matter of patriotic exhortation. By the early 1950s, however, the infusion of weapons from the United States, the Soviet Union, and China had turned the Indochina conflict into a total war. Hunger, exhaustion, and violence along with the conflict's growing political complexity challenged the DRV leaders' mobilization efforts, forcing patriotic appeals to be supplemented with coercion and terror. This trend reached its revolutionary climax in late 1952 when Hanoi, under strong pressure from Stalin and Mao, agreed to carry out radical land reform in DRV-controlled areas of northern Vietnam. The regime's 1954 victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, the return of peace, and the division of the country into North and South did not slow this process of socialist transformation. Over the next six years, 1954–1960, the DRV's Communist leaders raced through land reform and agricultural collectivization with a relentless sense of urgency. Mass Mobilization in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, 1945–1960 explores the way the exigencies of war, the dreams of Marxist-Leninist ideology, and the pressures of the Cold War environment combined with pride and patriotism to drive totalitarian state formation in northern Vietnam.
