Emerging Market Portfolio Flows Mr.Serkan Arslanalp,Mr.Takahiro Tsuda,2015-12-17 Portfolio flows to emerging markets EMs tend to be correlated A possible explanation is the role global benchmarks play in allocating capital internationally the so called benchmark effect This paper finds that benchmark driven investors indeed play a large role in a key segment of the market the EM local currency government bond market accounting for more than one third of total foreign holdings as of end 2014 We find that the prominence of these investors declined somewhat after the May 2013 taper tantrum but remain high This distinction is important in understanding the drivers of EM capital flows and their sensitivity to different types of shocks In particular a high share of benchmark driven investors may result in capital flows that are more sensitive to global shocks and less sensitive to country factors

Burr,Stuart Warmington,2021-06-16 Sub-Saharan Africa's Risk Perception Premium: In the Search of Missing Factors William Gbohoui,Rasmané Ouedraogo,Yirbehogre Modeste Some,2023-06-23 Policymakers from the sub Saharan Africa SSA region often flag a mispricing of their sovereign

debt presumably originating from a perception risk by international investors that lead to unjustifiably high borrowing costs Against this background this paper explores the extent to which a potential SSA premium exists in the financial markets following a broader two fold approach Firstly using a sample of 1592 international primary sovereign fixed coupon bonds issued between 2003 2021 from Bond Radar by 89 countries we find that SSA countries pay significantly higher coupon at issuance compared to their peers from other regions Secondly we assess whether there is any bias against SSA countries in the secondary market that would result in higher refinancing cost Based on an unbalanced panel of quarterly data covering 107 countries over 1990 2022 we find that SSA countries pay higher refinancing costs in the secondary market The paper further explores whether there are other factors overlooked by the literature that matter for the risk pricing by international investors In that respect we explore the sensitivity of spreads to some structural dimensions where SSA countries face acute challenges the transparency of budget process the importance of the informal sector the level of financial development and the quality of public institutions The results show that the excess premium estimated for SSA countries vanishes when these structural factors are accounted for in the regressions
