

How to Write a Case Study

A case study is an in-depth analysis of a real-life situation or incident, as a way to illustrate content and theory to a real or simulated life situation or both. Case studies allow the learner to acquire cognitive reasoning, critical thinking, and decision-making skills.

HERE are some suggestions for how to write a case study. Remember, this is just a guide! Please be aware that different supervisors/tutors often have slightly different approaches and as such, their requirements may vary. Ensure you check the guidelines provided by your faculty/department and follow these to the letter.

Selecting the Topic

The author should select a topic that is focused, reality-based, relevant, and reflects evidence of best practices in nursing. The topic can deal with a care scenario from a past nursing experience or one that highlights and emphasizes the scope of current nursing practice.

Planning: Write Objectives

In the planning stage, it might be helpful to write at least three objectives or outcomes that reflect what can be learnt from the case study.

Example (N.B. in these examples, the patient diagnosis is schizoaffective disorder)

At the conclusion of the case study, it should be possible to:

1. Identify the characteristic behaviours presented in schizoaffective disorder.
2. Identify the components for diagnosing schizoaffective disorder.
3. Identify the common pharmacological approaches to the treatment of schizoaffective disorder including side effects and nursing considerations.

Developing an Introduction

An introduction is one or two opening paragraphs that set the stage for the case study scenario. Within the introduction, the patient, symptoms, and related circumstances of the situation may be described and may also present the history of the patient leading up to the events to be addressed in the scenario.

Example

J.A., a 35-year-old sanitation worker, was brought to the emergency department by her sister after being found in her home repeating "my neighbours are trying to kill me". J.A. stated that she often hears voices and sees people who tell her to kill herself.

In the emergency department J.A. was assessed and comforted. Her personal hygiene had been deteriorating and her teeth were discoloured and falling out. Her sister helped with the exam and stated that J.A. "had not shown up for work and would not answer

Boberg, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 Woodfuels in developing countries particularly Africa remain a basic need for urban households who depend heavily on them for their energy needs This work examines the confusion about the environmental and social impacts of woodfuel use and the structure of informal sector woodfuel markets Using data from a year of survey field work in Tanzania the author questions assumptions of poorly functioning woodfuel markets and their impact on environment and society Approaching the unregulated woodfuel markets as industrial organizations the author uses a classic structure previously applied to developed markets in industrialized countries to determine the competitiveness and efficiency of woodfuel markets Results indicate well functioning markets under most circumstances and the study details the variables which enhance market sustainability The social and environmental implications of woodfuel use as it exists and suggestions to policymakers for improvements to enhance the sustainability of the system and the environment complete the study The study should be useful for those interested in energy and environmental issues or informal markets including agricultural markets in developing countries and to those interested in industrial organization as applied to the Third World

A Case Study on the Impact of Weblogs on the Writing of Low-Level Learners in the University of Chile Simon Higginson, 2011-06-01 Since the turn of the century the use of computer mediated communication CMC has become more widespread in educational contexts and weblogs blogs one of the more popular forms of CMC Bloch 2007 have been the focus of numerous studies However whilst these studies have listed the potential benefits of blog use for language learners few studies have offered any practical tips for educators who wish to implement the use of writing blogs in the EFL classroom Moreover the vast majority of studies have focused on the use of blogs with relatively high level learners in academic contexts This small scale study focuses on how the use of blogs impact on the writing of a group of low level learners in a tertiary EFL context in Chile Moreover it presents a tentative model to explain the different factors that contribute to writing development using weblogs as these learners grapple not only with a written code but with a linguistic code that is still being acquired Raimes 1985 232 The findings report that blogs have the potential to aid low level learners develop their L2 writing and a number of suggestions are made that may help practitioners facilitate the process
