Picart,2009-04-08 Since the publication of Dracula in 1897 Bram Stoker s original creation has been a source of inspiration for artists writers and filmmakers From Universal s early black and white films and Hammer's Technicolor representations that followed iterations of Dracula have been cemented in mainstream cinema. This anthology investigates and explores the far larger body of work coming from sources beyond mainstream cinema reinventing Dracula. Draculas Vampires and Other Undead Forms assembles provocative essays that examine Dracula films and their movement across borders of nationality, sexuality, ethnicity, gender, and genre since the 1920s. The essays analyze the complexity Dracula embodies outside the conventional landscape of films with which the vampire is typically associated. Focusing on Dracula and Dracula-type characters in film, anime, and literature from predominantly non-Anglo markets, this anthology offers unique perspectives that seek to ground depictions and experiences of Dracula within a larger political, historical, and cultural framework.

The Making and Remaking of China's "Red Classics" Rosemary Roberts, Li Li, 2017-10-19. The Making and Remaking of China's Red Classics is the first full-length work to bring together research on the red classics across the entire Maoist period through to the reform era. It covers a representative range of genres including novels, short stories, films, TV series, picture books, animation, and traditional style paintings. Collectively, the chapters offer a panoramic view of the production and reception of the original red classics and the adaptations and remakes of such works after the Cultural Revolution. The contributors present fascinating stories of how a work came to be regarded as or failed to become a red classic. There has never been a single answer to the question of what counts as a red classic; artists had to negotiate the changing political circumstances and adopt the correct artistic technique to bring out the authentic image of the people while appealing to the taste of the mass audience at the same time. A critical examination of these works reveals their sociopolitical and ideological import, aesthetic significance, and function as a mass cultural phenomenon at particular historical moments. This volume marks a step forward in the growing field of the study of Maoist cultural products. The Making and Remaking of China's Red Classics analyzes the creation of literature in the Maoist era as well as the way in which the revolutionary canon was rediscovered and imagined during the reform period. This book is a timely and fascinating set of studies critically illuminating a foundational time during PRC history and its aftermath. Wendy Larson, professor emerita, University of Oregon. Creative works produced in the Mao era (1942-1976) are often dismissed as mere propaganda. Despite the fact that they are artistic reflections of that remarkable period, scholars have generally ignored these red classics. This book throws much needed light on them. It is a must-read for anyone wanting to understand the cultural scene in China. Kam Louie, honorary professor, University of Hong Kong and UNSW Australia.

Manga's Cultural Crossroads Jaqueline Berndt, Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer, 2014-03-14. Focusing on the art and literary form of manga, this volume examines the intercultural exchanges that have shaped manga during the twentieth century and how manga's culturalization is related to its globalization. Through contributions from leading scholars in the fields of comics and Japanese culture, it describes manga culture in two ways: as a fundamentally hybrid culture comprised of both subcultures and transcultures and as an aesthetic culture which has eluded modernist notions of art originality and authorship The latter is demonstrated in a special focus on the best selling manga franchise NARUTO
