Kismetwali And Other Stories English Edition:

Kismetwali and Other Stories Reetika Khanna Nijhawan ,2015-06-01 Details for Kismetwali and Other Stories Set against the backdrop of modern day India Kismetwali and Other Stories places the reader amidst circumstances that transcend place, purse and prestige. This octet of novellas offers a rare glimpse into the parallel lives of the privileged and penniless, converging on those astonishing moments when free will intercepts fate and the rigid divide between social classes is rendered insignificant. Each narrative showcases walas and walis of the working class, the common yet essential purveyors of goods and providers of service as empowered individuals who take centre stage. The shavewala, a humble barber, becomes an intimate collaborator in a love story that spans the seven seas; the malishwali, a long-serving masseuse, conceals her mistress's shocking secret while offering a gift of revelation to another; the kismetwali, a clairvoyant of unremarkable pedigree, solicits cosmic benefaction for her affluent clients. These socially eclipsed characters are the true protagonists in every story. About Reetika Khanna Nijhawan Reetika Khanna Nijhawan was born and raised in a small town in northern India. While growing up, she travelled the world extensively with her father, an officer in the merchant navy. After receiving her degree in Psychology from Delhi University, she worked as a flight attendant with Lufthansa German Airlines before settling down to write for ELLE and ELLE Decor in Mumbai. She later moved to Atlanta where her work has been published in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and Khabar magazine. Kismetwali and Other Stories is her first work of fiction. She penned these eight novellas over time while waiting in the carpool line outside her daughter's school. Chouboli and Other Stories Vijayadānna Dethā,2010 The Dancing Fakir John Eyton,2018-03-11 Excerpt from The Dancing Fakir And Other Stories Once in better days, he had spent two seasons with a third-rate variety company in one of the Calcutta music halls. He had shown really marked ability as a mimic and could take off a native to the life; his patter songs were popular even when drunk, as was frequent, he could keep a wonderful serious face. But one night he returned from a strange revel in the Chinese quarter and proceeded to divest himself of his clothing on the stage slowly and impassively. It took six men a considerable time to remove him. He had a rooted idea that he was a Dancing Fakir and with a dead white face he made rings round the manager and his minions until he fell insensible among the footlights. His theatrical career ended in that faint Jackson drifted on. The Calcutta race course knew him for a time in various capacities, none of them above suspicion. At one time he was concerned with bicycles. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com.
