Sustainability in Public Procurement, Corporate Law and Higher Education Lela Melon, 2023-12-12 Contemporary changes in law and policy at the global level to efficiently answer to environmental and social issues correspond to the traditional approach of limiting the regulatory and policy changes to a singular field or discipline tackling the inherent unsustainability of corporate laws or incentivising the offering of sustainable finance to stimulate the transition towards sustainable practices This book provides a new viewpoint and approach of simultaneously regulating seemingly non connected fields in order to provide a fertile ground for a truly organic change towards sustainable outcomes It addresses diverse questions of sustainable transition of the three specific fields to support sustainable practices in public procurement private market transaction and in educating future business leaders and legal experts by incorporating sustainable concerns as the underlying guiding principles of their conduct It translates scientific findings into a practical format that can be used by diverse stakeholders searching for information and solutions in their respective professional fields The underlying assumption is that a simultaneous action in the three respective fields of public procurement corporate law and higher education brings about more coherent and interconnected results that incentivise further action and changes towards sustainable practices The book furthers the idea of policy coherence by building upon the findings in the field of public procurement corporate law and practice and higher education curricula By identifying the barriers in the three respective fields for sustainable action and proposing solutions for either eliminating or minimising those barriers at the EU level the book calls for further changes in the respective fields as well as for considering the spillover effects of these policies on other fields

Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory ,1990 Discretion in EU Public Procurement Law Sanja Bogojevic,Xavier Groussot,Jörgen Hettne,2019-05-30 The EU public procurement regime has recently undergone an overhaul and now allows Member States and their contracting authorities to pursue strategic goals via public procurement including environmental and social objectives The extent to which such interests may be accommodated in the procurement process is ultimately determined by the broader legal context in which the EU public procurement regime exists which raises pressing questions regarding the scope and limits of Member States discretion This volume scrutinises these new legal acts particularly Directive 2014 24 EU focusing on discretion and engaging with questions central to the public procurement regime against the EU legal backdrop including internal market law and environment law as well as law beyond the EU

Corporate Power and Human Rights Manette Kaisershot, Nicholas Connolly, 2018-02-02 There is ample evidence about the negative effects business activity of all types can have on the provision of human rights Equally there can be little doubt economic development usually driven through business activity and trade is necessary for any state to provide the institutions and infrastructure necessary to secure and provide human rights for their citizens The United Nations and businesses recognise this tension and are collaborating to effect change in business behaviours through voluntary initiatives such as the Global Compact and John Ruggie s Guiding Principles Yet voluntary approaches are evidently failing to prevent human rights violations and there are few alternatives in law for affected communities to seek justice This book seeks to robustly challenge the current status quo of business approaches to human rights in order to develop meaningful alternatives in an attempt to breach the gap between the realities of business and human rights and its discourse This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Journal of Human Rights Report of the Special Rapporteur on the Right to Food United Nations. General Assembly,2014 The Country Gentleman ,1917
