Hs English Suggestion 2015:

Reflective Practice as Professional Development Atsuko Watanabe, 2016-12-07 This book presents a researcher's work on reflective practice with a group of high school teachers of English in Japan. Beginning with a series of uncomfortable teacher training sessions delivered to unwilling participants, the book charts the author's development of new methods of engaging her participants and making use of their own experiences and knowledge. Both an in-depth examination of reflective practice in the context of Japanese cultural conventions and a narrative account of the researcher's reflexivity in her engagement with the study, the book introduces the concept of the reflective continuum, a non-linear journey that mirrors the way reflection develops in unpredictable and individual ways. Bulletin, 1919 Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning Christian Jones, 2019-11-07 Explores how literature is used as a model of spoken language and to develop speaking skills in second language learning. Sports Broadcasting Kevin Hull, 2022 This undergraduate textbook provides students with the information and skills needed to be a well-rounded sports television or radio broadcaster. Students will learn how to write for broadcast, shoot and edit video, and prepare for all the additional tasks needed along the way.

The Successful Principal Robert Cunard, 2017-07-21 The Successful Principal takes its reader through the arc of the principalship, beginning with teaching, moving on to promotion to the administrative office, and how to achieve it, describing how to go about entry planning, going into depth about the challenges and opportunities the principal faces in leading a school, and moving into a focus on how to thrive as a principal while growing the skills of others. This is a book designed to give principals advice on how to do the job well. The book is buttressed by research where appropriate, and it pays particular attention to the principal's basic conundrum, which is this: while he/she is arguably the face and leader of the school, he/she is often the person with the least actual power in the system. The book takes a realistic look at the principal's power, opportunities, and structural and political limitations, and then teaches its readers how successful principals find a way forward in spite of those challenges. Hegemonies of Language and Their Discontents Carlos G. Vélez-Ibáñez, 2017-12-12 The book provides a unique and broad look at the history, power, duality, and promise of Spanish and English in the U.S. Mexico borderlands. Provided by publisher. Educational Work of the Churches in 1916-1918 United States. Bureau of Education, 1919 Learning English and Chinese as Foreign Languages Wen-Chuan Lin, 2019-09-19 Learning English and Chinese is becoming increasingly important to the prospects of young people. This book compares English as a Foreign Language teaching in Taiwan with Chinese as a Foreign Language education in England in order to highlight how classroom activities are embedded within multiple settings, including ethnic or other social group cultures, family, and community resources, and school visions or goals. The book illustrates how in Taiwan, different ethnic groups recognise, access, and value English language learning to varying extents. Its findings illuminate why some ethnic groups are highly motivated to learn English and are able to gain privileged economic positions in the job market. In England, access to Chinese is marked by social class and the book argues that this could augment an educational apartheid that already exists in language teaching in secondary schools thereby exacerbating existing inequality

English Learners' Access to Postsecondary Education Yasuko Kanno, 2021-09-09 Why does a public high school despite having resources and educators with good intentions end up graduating English learners ELs without preparing them for college and career This book answers this question through a longitudinal ethnographic case study of a diverse high school in Pennsylvania The author takes the reader on a journey with seven EL students through their last two years of high school exploring how and why none of them reached the postsecondary destinations they originally aspired to This book provides a sobering look into the systemic undereducation of high school ELs and the role of high schools in limiting their postsecondary options

Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21 The study of students motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers efforts contribute to students writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students writing or serve as catalysts for teachers actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students motivational beliefs about writing teachers motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both quantitative qualitative or mixed methods meta analysis and reviews of the literature Record of Current Educational Publications United States.
