The Teens and Dating Debate: What is the right age to start dating?

1. "One of the more unpleasant experiences of parenthood is dealing with your teenagers' networks: 'All my other friends' parents let them... (fill in the blank),' " says psychologist and clinical social worker Dr. Leslie B. Mith. "For teens, one of the milestones of independence is being able to go out on dates - preferably without your parents."
2. "Your teen might want to date, but is he or she ready? "Sixteen - and even a bit older - is a good age for dating, provided that the teen is mature," says Dr. Mith. "Maturity can be measured by willingness to participate sufficiently in household chores, treating others with respect, getting good grades and managing emotions."
3. Mike Donitzer, parent of two teenagers and the author of, HELPT My Teen Is Dating: Real Solutions to Tough Conversations, says that 18 is the ideal age. "Almost EVERY teenager plans on being intimate with his/her partner (whether they admit it or not) in some form - from kissing to potentially much more."
4. "The problem that most parents make is waiting too late to allow their children to date," says Dr. Donna Thomas-Rodgers, who suggests allowing teens to go to group dances and supervised events at age 14, allowing them to go on group dates at age 15 and individual dates from the age of 16.
5. "When teens start at 15 years old with actual group dating you can support the child's dating choices and supervise their decisions," she says. "I saw it all the throughout college. Those with very strict lives went wild in college. When you have more time with them while they are at home they don't feel the need to go overboard once they leave the nest."
