1. Looking closely at how weakness and strength are represented in at least two works that you have studied. Discuss how the identity of the protagonists has been explored.
2. To what extent do the texts you have studied show that an individual is in control of his or her own destiny?
3. Some say 'Ignorance is bliss'. How is 'not knowing' presented in the two texts you have studied and to what effect?
4. Show how aspects of the play you studied can be better understood with a knowledge of the time and context in which they were written.
5. Looking closely at the text you have studied shows that more than one interpretation could be made of the character of the protagonist.
6. How do the poems present an unequal relationship between one cultural/ethnic group and another?
7. What obstacles do the poems suggest in the way of establishing a personal identity?
8. To what extent do the poems reinforce the colonialist perspective either through their representation of beliefs or through the absence of any reference?
9. In what ways and for what reasons is the notion of 'home' explored in two of the poems you have studied?
10. Compare to what extent writers writing the poems of African writers. Compare and contrast the ways in which the authors of two African poems have explored and captured the imagination of their readers.
11. Compare and contrast two colonialist writers writing within a colonial and imperial context to a literary work. In at least two texts you have studied, show how writers have made effective use of the artistic potential of one or both poetic traditions.
12. How do the environment and setting contribute to developing the characters' sense of reality?
13. Discuss important decisions that characters make and how they lead to self-knowledge.
