Serendipity Brij V. Lal,Doug Munro,2024-02-29 The second generation of Pacific historians who began their careers in the 1970s and 1980s is gradually fading from the academic scene They have made fundamental contributions to the field of Pacific history enduring in their impact and the identity of the discipline is now firmly established This volume is not so much about their individual research but rather their improbable journeys into Pacific history why and how they came to it in the first place Almost without exception they did not choose Pacific history but rather stumbled into the field through serendipity They came from forays into African Indian East Asian French British imperial and other fields and were enticed into Pacific history through chance or the efforts of kindly mentors All this is evident in the values and understandings they bring to the subject The one commonality that binds them is a love of the islands that have been the center of their lifetime work Many distinguished Pacific historians of the last four to five decades are represented in this collection Serendipity presents fourteen autobiographical chapters in which the contributors trace their paths as Pacific historians They offer their sources of inspiration supporters and publications that shaped them as historians With a significant focus on the importance of teaching and mentoring that they both received and provided their writing not only illuminates their lives but the state of Pacific history as an academic field The experiences of the contributors are moving replete with sorrows and regrets as well as of achievements and satisfactions Part of these careers were spent working in areas other than scholarship such as high school teaching consultancies volunteering teaching English as a second language or doing menial jobs just to keep going Serendipity is a pathbreaking form of historiography and essential to the Pacific history field
