Enseignement Supérieur Justice Sociale Angleterre:

Justice sociale et enseignement supérieur Nicolas Charles (sociologue).),2013 La comparaison internationale sur laquelle repose la thèse vise à analyser la signification sociale que peut prendre la justice dans le cadre des études supérieures. Ce travail identifie les conceptions de justice qui fondent la légitimité des inégalités dans l'enseignement supérieur ainsi que les mécanismes sociaux qui mettent en acte cette recherche de justice en matière de formation, de financement des études, de sélection et d'accès à l'emploi. Afin de souligner l'impact du contexte national sur la définition de la justice dans l'enseignement supérieur, cette thèse compare trois pays aux systèmes universitaires massifiés mais présentant des histoires et des structures variables : l'Angleterre, la Suède et la France. Fondée sur l'analyse d'enquêtes quantitatives Eurostudent III et Reflex et d'une soixantaine d'entretiens conduits auprès d'étudiants, ce travail témoigne de la cohérence des systèmes nationaux d'enseignement supérieur. Cette thèse explore ainsi dans l'enseignement supérieur les modèles d'action publique traditionnellement analysés comme marchand en Angleterre, universaliste en Suède et académique en France. Elle met en lumière la façon dont les principes de justice, légitimité, autonomie sont articulés et interprétés pour finalement consacrer un principe idéalisé dans chaque pays : l'autonomie individuelle en Angleterre, la légitimité sociale en Suède, la méritocratie scolaire en France. Ce travail permet ainsi de remettre en perspective la principale fonction sociale des études en France, savoir faciliter l'insertion professionnelle et de souligner la nature fondamentalement sociale de la caractérisation comme justes ou injustes des inégalités.

Private Higher Education and Inequalities in the Global South Etienne Gérard,2024-04-23 Based on original findings from research carried out in six low and middle income countries in Africa, Asia and Latin America, this book brings together conceptual and empirical analyses of private higher education and social and academic inequality, a topic largely unexplored in the social science literature, particularly on private higher education. Field surveys of different categories of actors in numerous private universities have combined common methods and tools in countries chosen for the differences in their social structures and the characteristics, organization and development of their private higher education systems. Based on these qualitative surveys combined with available quantitative data on higher education, this book analyzes the production and reproduction of social and academic inequalities in countries as diverse as Argentina, Mexico, Peru, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Senegal and Vietnam. Finally, the historical and social structuring of the private education systems in the selected countries provides the framework for analyses that go beyond the traditional higher education demand, supply and public policy approaches to explore the perspective of the actors: institutional administrators, teaching staff and students.

Enseignement supérieur et inégalités sociales Pierre Doray, Benoît Laplante, Pierre Canisius Kamanzi, Annie Pilote,2023-11-01T00:00:00-04:00 Malgré les progrès indéniables réalisés ce jour concernant la démocratisation des études supérieures, les processus de reproduction sociale persistent et produisent toujours des inégalités sociales. Si depuis le milieu des années 1980 les politiques éducatives ont donné lieu de nouvelles formes, davantage axées sur sa généralisation, la question
