

Calculus Clue

When I was young, I loved to play the Milton Bradley (now Hasbro) game, Clue. Clue was based on a murder being committed and the players trying to solve the mystery of who committed the murder, the weapon used, and the location it occurred.

The concept of Calculus Clue is to present problems for student preparation for the Advanced Placement Calculus AB and BC exam in a format that is different and enjoyable and loosely based on the game Clue. Problems are presented in the form of a mystery. Following is what is initially presented to students.

An anonymous note was sent to Congress concerning a treasure that was buried somewhere in the United States. Along with the note was a "Clue Sheet," a list of 30 possible suspects (people who buried the treasure), 30 possible locations, and 30 possible treasures. Unfortunately that means that there are 27,000 possible solutions to the mystery of "who, what, and where." Stranger still is a set of clues which allows someone to solve the mystery by a process of elimination. There are 29 sets of 3 mathematical problems which experts have concluded require the use of differential and integral calculus. Congress has decided to retain the use of calculus experts – students taking Advanced Placement Calculus – to solve the mystery.

For each mystery, there are 29 sets of 3 problems (suspect, location, and treasure). Space is provided to solve the problem. Every answer to a problem is an integer from 1 to 30.

Students solve the problem and then cross out the corresponding suspect, location or treasure on the Clue Card. For example, if the suspect problem set #1 answer was 6, they would cross out Tiger Woods. (see the accompanying Clue Card).

If all goes well, the students will eventually cross out every suspect, location, and treasure, and what is remaining is the solution to the mystery. However, if they get the same answer for two
