Evidence-Based Counseling and Psychotherapy for an Aging Population Morley D. Glicken, 2009-08-01 At a time when the mental health difficulties disorders of the elderly are coming to the fore of many practitioners patient rosters naming and treating those problems is still too often handled as an art as much as a science Inconsistent practices based on clinical experience and intuition rather than hard scientific evidence of efficacy have for too long been the basis of much treatment Evidence based practices help to alleviate some of the confusion allowing the practitioner to develop quality practice guidelines that can be applied to the client identify appropriate literature that can be shared with the client communicate with other professionals from a knowledge guided frame of reference and continue a process of self learning that results in the best possible treatment for clients The proposed volume will provide practitioners with a state of the art compilation of evidence based practices in the assessment and treatment of elderly clients As such it will be more clinically useful than anything currently on the market and will better enable practitioners to meet the demands faced in private and institutional practice Focusing on the most current research and best evidence regarding assessment diagnosis and treatment the volume covers difficulties including but not limited to social isolation loneliness elder abuse neglect depression and suicidal inclinations anxiety disorders substance abuse dementias prolonged bereavement patients with terminal illnesses Because concrete research evidence is so often not used as the basis for practice this book provides a timely guide for clinicians social workers and advanced students to a research oriented approach to serving the mental health needs of elderly adults Fully covers assessment diagnosis treatment of the elderly focusing on evidence based practices Consolidates broadly distributed literature into single source and specifically relates evidence based tools to practical treatment saving clinicians time in obtaining and translating information and improving the level of care they can provide Detailed how to explanation of practical evidence based treatment techniques Gives reader firm grasp of how to more effectively treat patients Chapters directly address the range of conditions and disorders most common for this patient population i e social isolation elder abuse neglect depression anxiety disorders terminal illnesses disabilities bereavement substance abuse and dementias Prepares readers for the conditions they will encounter in real world treatment of an elderly patient population Cites numerous case studies and provides integrative questions at the end of each chapter Exposes reader to real world application of each treatment discussed Offers reader easy base for further study of subject saving clinicians time
