CephInAction: Towards Future Challenges for Cephalopod Science Lindy Holden-Dye,Giovanna Ponte,Graziano Fiorito,A. Louise Allcock,Ryuta Nakajima,Erica A. G. Vidal,Tarla Rai Peterson,2020-02-12 The last five years have been extremely challenging but also very innovative for cephalopod science and the outstanding tradition of biological contribution with cephalopod molluscs as key players in science and human activities and interests has continued This Research Topic is one of several dedicated to cephalopod molluscs e g Hanke and Osorio 2018 Ponte et al 2018 hosted by Frontiers over the last few years not to mention other papers published separately Highlighting of cephalopod science is important because it has much to offer not only the life science community but also more broadly the public perception of science and its understanding and relationship with scientific endeavour and cephalopods as living organisms and part of our everyday life at least for most of us This contribution illustrates the key needs that need to be overcome by the cephalopod research community i e rapid and effective mechanisms for exchange of knowledge and resources sharing of laboratory protocols videos tissues samples and data sets innovative approaches and initiatives in public engagement The cuttlefish comic included is an excellent example of a type of media that can be used to expand scientific knowledge to the public and human relationship with live animals There are strategic challenges in convincing globally distributed policy makers and funders of the relevance of cephalopods in scientific advances and also in the regulatory aspects since cephalopods are the only invertebrates whose use is regulated in Europe in a research context and this increases the need for integrated oversight and direction in terms of ethics and animal welfare e g Jacquet et al 2019a 2019b Ponte et al 2019 This Research Topic also aligns with the interests of the cephalopod community in stimulating public interest in cephalopods extending to a broader audience that could include chefs and gourmets and fishers and scientists aiming to develop sustainable food resources CephInAction Towards Future Challenges for Cephalopod Science Research Topic includes 14 papers from about 40 authors representing ten different countries thus overlapping with the original parties that contributed to the COST FA1301 that together with CephRes promoted and supported this editorial initiative Aquatic Ecosystems Sheila A. Browne,2012 Dynamic Modeling Bruce Hannon,Matthias Ruth,2012-12-06

The book uses STELLA software to develop simulation models thus allowing readers to convert their understanding of a phenomenon to a computer model and then run it to yield the inevitable dynamic consequences built into the structure Part I provides an introduction to modeling dynamic systems while Part II offers general modeling methods Parts III through VIII then apply these methods to model real world phenomena from chemistry genetics ecology economics and engineering A clear approachable introduction to the modeling process of interest in any field where real problems can be illuminated by computer simulation Freshwater Fisheries Ecology John F. Craig,2016-01-12 Inland fisheries are vital for the livelihoods and food resources of humans worldwide but their importance is underestimated probably because large numbers of small local operators are involved Freshwater Fisheries Ecology defines what we have globally what we are going to lose and mitigate for and what given the right tools we can save To estimate potential production the dynamics of freshwater ecosystems rivers lakes and estuaries need to be understood These dynamics are diverse as are the earths freshwater fisheries resources from boreal to tropical regions and these influence how fisheries are both utilized and abused Three main types of fisheries are illustrated within the book artisanal commercial and recreational and the tools which have evolved for fisheries governance and management including assessment methods are described The book also covers in detail fisheries development providing information on improving fisheries through environmental and habitat evaluation enhancement and rehabilitation aquaculture genetically modified fishes and sustainability The book thoroughly reviews the negative impacts on fisheries including excessive harvesting climate change toxicology impoundments barriers and abstractions non native species and eutrophication Finally key areas of future research are outlined Freshwater Fisheries Ecology is truly a landmark publication containing contributions from over 100 leading experts and supported by the Fisheries Society of the British Isles The global approach makes this book essential reading for fish biologists fisheries scientists and ecologists and upper level students in these disciplines Libraries in all universities and research establishments where biological and fisheries sciences are studied and taught should have multiple copies of this hugely valuable resource About the Editor John Craig is Editor in Chief of the Journal of Fish Biology and has an enormous range of expertise and a wealth of knowledge of freshwater fishes and their ecology having studied them around the globe including in Asia North America Africa the Middle East and Europe His particular interests have been in population dynamics and life history strategies He is a Fellow of the Linnean Society of London and the Royal Society of Biology
