writer's memory of course in a less than pedantic way of the development history of Brisbane in the recent decades as witnessed by the writer over the years. Looking back an account of the embryonic growth of Brisbane is particularly lively and informative from the perspective of an ordinary resident ever since living through his boyhood and growing up in this wonderful city. There are many model displays of various scale for readers to visualize the scenes mentioned in the chapters and to capture readers' attention on some history events places to arouse their interest from a historical perspective. As Dad's grandchildren are all born in Australia hopefully the grandchildren and their progenies can get to know this mild mannered chef and pastry cook and learn how he shaped the family future in the land Downunder where Women glow and Men thunder.

traditions in Southeast Asia where the lack of certain ingredients and access to new ingredients along with the culinary knowledge of local people led Chinese migrants to modify traditional dishes and to invent new foods. This process brought the cuisine of southern China, considered by some writers to be the finest in the world, into contact with a wide range of local and global cuisines and ingredients. When Chinese from Southeast Asia moved on to other parts of the world, they brought these variants of Chinese food with them, completing a cycle of culinary reproduction, localization, and invention, and globalization. The process does not end there for the new context offers yet another set of ingredients and culinary traditions, and the embedding and fusing of foods continues, creating additional hybrid forms.

Written by scholars whose deep familiarity with Chinese cuisine is both personal and academic, Chinese Food and Foodways in Southeast Asia and Beyond is a book that anyone who has been fortunate enough to encounter Southeast Asian food will savour, and it provides a window on this world for those who have yet to discover it. Modern Asian Baking at Home Kat Lieu, 2022-07-26
