Urbanization in Asia is expected to reach 55% by 2030 and 64% by 2050, to constitute 53% of the world's urban population and contribute half the world's gross domestic product. But as cities swell, they also struggle with environmental degradation, traffic congestion, inadequate urban infrastructure and lack of basic civic services. This manual, prepared by the Urban Sector Group of the Asian Development Bank (ADB), provides guidelines for conducting rapid urban assessments. It is guided by the Urban Operational Plan 2012-2020, which outlines ADB's support to its members in developing their urban economies through the 3E approach: Economy, Environment and Equity. It presents a framework providing a context for the city-level 3E tool kits: Tool Kit for Rapid Economic Assessment, Planning and Development of Cities in Asia; Green City Development Tool Kit; and Enabling Inclusive Cities Tool Kit for Inclusive Urban Development. Decentralisation and Regional Development Eva Dick, Karin Gaesing, Daniel Inkoom, Teodoro Kausel, 2016-06-15. This book analyzes decentralisation, regional development paths and success factors in different governance sectors in Ghana, the Philippines, Tanzania and Chile and discusses overarching aspects of relevance. Decentralisation, which refers to the delegation of administrative responsibilities, political decision making and fiscal powers to lower levels of government, is now considered one of the most efficient engines of development. In Sub-Saharan Africa, decentralised states have made more progress in reducing poverty than those states with lower decentralisation scores. But in many countries, decentralisation is still considered a work in progress with unsatisfactory results. From a spatial point of view, the link between decentralisation and regional and district development is particularly interesting. Both in the North and in the South, regional or district development is seen as holding the potential for advancing social and economic development and even more so in decentralised political settings. Space-based networks at the regional or district level are considered instrumental for responding to locally specific challenges, e.g. in areas lagging behind economically. GUIDELINES TO CLEAN ENERGY S. Batchelor, N. Scott, J. McAllister, 2017-06-30. This manual has been designed for use by city officials and planners working in sub-Saharan Africa. It is a practical handbook which identifies easy-to-achieve energy interventions that will save money for cities, businesses and households, promote local economic development and enhance the sustainable profile of a city. This manual is specifically aimed as a support tool to achieve the implementation of key interventions within municipalities across sub-Saharan Africa. communities in the lead ,
