

1.1<sup>a</sup>. Concentration of a gas mixture.

A mixture of noble gases [helium (1), argon (2), krypton (3), and xenon (4)] is at a total pressure of 200 kPa and a temperature of 400 K. If the mixture has equal mole fractions of each of the gases, determine:

a) The composition of the mixture in terms of mass fractions.

Solution:

Basis: 100 kmole of the mixture

$$\begin{aligned}
 \text{ORIGIN} &:= 1 & \text{kmole} &:= 1000 \cdot \text{mole} \\
 \text{moles} &:= \begin{pmatrix} 25 \\ 25 \\ 25 \\ 25 \end{pmatrix} \cdot \text{kmole} & \text{MW} &:= \begin{pmatrix} 4 \\ 40 \\ 83.8 \\ 131.3 \end{pmatrix} \frac{\text{kg}}{\text{kmole}} & \text{mass} &:= \overrightarrow{(\text{moles} \cdot \text{MW})} \\
 \text{mass} &:= \begin{pmatrix} 100 \\ 1 \times 10^3 \\ 2.095 \times 10^3 \\ 3.283 \times 10^3 \end{pmatrix} \text{kg} & \text{total} &:= \sum_{i=1}^4 \text{mass}_i & \text{total} &:= 6.478 \times 10^3 \text{ kg} \\
 \text{mass_fraction} &:= \frac{\text{mass}}{\text{total}} & \text{mass_fraction} &:= \begin{pmatrix} 0.015 \\ 0.154 \\ 0.323 \\ 0.507 \end{pmatrix}
 \end{aligned}$$

b) The average molecular weight of the mixture.

Solution

$$\begin{aligned}
 \text{kmole} &:= 1000 \cdot \text{mole} \\
 M_{av} &:= \frac{\text{total}}{100 \cdot \text{kmole}} & M_{av} &= 0.065 \frac{\text{kg}}{\text{mol}} \end{aligned}$$

c) The total molar concentration.

Solution

$$\begin{aligned}
 P &:= 200 \cdot \text{kPa} & T &:= 400 \cdot \text{K} & \text{kPa} &:= 1000 \cdot \text{Pa} \\ c &:= \frac{P}{R \cdot T} & R &:= 8.314 \cdot \text{kPa} \cdot \text{m}^3 \cdot \text{kmole}^{-1} \cdot \text{K}^{-1} \\
 c &= 60.14 \frac{\text{mol}}{\text{m}^3}
 \end{aligned}$$

d) The mass density.

Solution

$$\begin{aligned}
 \rho &:= c \cdot M_{av} & \rho &= 3.896 \frac{\text{kg}}{\text{m}^3}
 \end{aligned}$$

Solutions Manual to Accompany Mass-transfer Operations Robert Ewald Treybal, 1980      Principles and Modern Applications of Mass Transfer Operations Jaime Benitez, 2011-09-20 A problem solving approach that helps students master new material and put their knowledge into practice The Second Edition of the acclaimed Principles and Modern Applications of Mass Transfer Operations continues to provide a thorough accessible text that gives students the support and the tools they need to quickly move from theory to application This latest edition has been thoroughly revised and updated with new discussions of such developing topics as membrane separations ion exchange multistage batch distillation and chromatography and other adsorptive processes Moreover the Second Edition now covers mass transfer phenomena in biological systems making the text appropriate for students in biochemical engineering as well as chemical engineering Complementing the author's clear discussions are several features that help students quickly master new material and put their knowledge into practice including Twenty five to thirty problems at the end of each chapter that enable students to use their newfound knowledge to solve problems Examples and problems that help students become proficient working with Mathcad Figures and diagrams that illustrate and clarify complex concepts and processes References facilitating further in depth research into particular topics Ten appendices filled with helpful data and reference materials Ideal for a first course in mass transfer operations this text has proven to be invaluable to students in chemical and environmental engineering as well as researchers and university faculty      Chemical Engineering Education, 1994      Engineering Education, 1979

Graduating Engineer, 1980      Classical Thermodynamics of Nonelectrolyte Solutions Hendrick C. Van Ness, Michael M. Abbott, 1982      Momentum, Heat, and Mass Transfer Carroll O. Bennett, John Earle Myers, 1982      Water Treatment Unit Processes David W. Hendricks, 2018-10-03 The unit process approach common in the field of chemical engineering was introduced about 1962 to the field of environmental engineering An understanding of unit processes is the foundation for continued learning and for designing treatment systems The time is ripe for a new textbook that delineates the role of unit process principles in environmental engineering Suitable for a two semester course Water Treatment Unit Processes Physical and Chemical provides the grounding in the underlying principles of each unit process that students need in order to link theory to practice Bridging the gap between scientific principles and engineering practice the book covers approaches that are common to all unit processes as well as principles that characterize each unit process Integrating theory into algorithms for practice Professor Hendricks emphasizes the fundamentals using simple explanations and avoiding models that are too complex mathematically allowing students to assimilate principles without getting sidelined by excess calculations Applications of unit processes principles are illustrated by example problems in each chapter Student problems are provided at the end of each chapter the solutions manual can be downloaded from the CRC Press Web site Excel spreadsheets are integrated into the text as tables designated by a CD prefix Certain spreadsheets illustrate the idea of scenarios that emphasize the idea that design solutions depend upon assumptions and the interactions between design variables The spreadsheets can be downloaded from the CRC web site The book has been designed so that each unit process topic is self contained with sidebars and examples throughout the text Each chapter has subheadings so that students can scan the pages and identify important topics with little effort Problems references and a glossary are found at the end of each chapter Most chapters contain downloadable Excel spreadsheets integrated into the text and appendices with additional information Appendices at the end of the book provide useful reference material on various topics that support the text This design allows students at different levels to easily navigate through the book and professors to assign pertinent sections in the order they prefer The book gives your students an understanding of the broader aspects of one of the core areas of the environmental engineering curriculum and knowledge important for the design of treatment systems     The Publishers' Trade List Annual,1980     Handbook of Separation Process Technology Ronald W. Rousseau,1987-05-13 Surveys the selection design and operation of most of the industrially important separation processes Discusses the underlying principles on which the processes are based and provides illustrative examples of the use of the processes in a modern context Features thorough treatment of newer separation processes based on membranes adsorption chromatography ion exchange and chemical complexation Includes a review of historically important separation processes such as distillation absorption extraction leaching and crystallization and considers these techniques in light of recent developments affecting them     Handbook of Downstream Processing E. Goldberg,2012-12-06 The last two decades have seen a phenomenal growth of the field of genetic or biochemical engineering and have witnessed the development and ultimately marketing of a variety of products typically through the manipulation and growth of different types of microorganisms followed by the recovery and purification of the associated products The engineers and biotechnologists who are involved in the full scale process design of such facilities must be familiar with the variety of unit operations and equipment and the applicable regulatory requirements This book describes current commercial practice and will be useful to those engineers working in this field in the design construction and operation of pharmaceutical and biotechnology plants It will be of help to the chemical or pharmaceutical engineer who is developing a plant design and who faces issues such as Should the process be batch or continuous or a combination of batch and continuous How should the optimum process design be developed Should one employ a new revolutionary separation which could be potentially difficult to validate or use accepted technology which involves less risk Should the process be run with ingredients formulated from water for injection deionized water or even filtered tap water Should any of the separations be run in cold rooms or in glycol jacketed lines to minimize microbial growth where sterilization is not possible Should the process equipment and lines be designed to be sterilized in place cleaned in place or should every piece be broken down cleaned and autoclaved after every turn     Advanced Physicochemical Treatment

Processes Lawrence K. Wang, Yung-Tse Hung, Nazih K. Shammash, 2007-11-10 The past thirty years have witnessed a growing worldwide desire that positive actions be taken to restore and protect the environment from the degrading effects of all forms of pollution air water soil and noise Because pollution is a direct or indirect consequence of waste the seemingly idealistic demand for zero discharge can be construed as an unrealistic demand for zero waste However as long as waste continues to exist we can only attempt to abate the subsequent pollution by converting it to a less noxious form Three major questions usually arise when a particular type of pollution has been identified 1 How serious is the pollution 2 Is the technology to abate it available and 3 Do the costs of abatement justify the degree of abatement achieved This book is one of the volumes of the Handbook of Environmental Engineering series The principal intention of this series is to help readers formulate answers to the last two questions above The traditional approach of applying tried and true solutions to specific pollution problems has been a major contributing factor to the success of environmental engineering and has accounted in large measure for the establishment of a methodology of pollution control However the realization of the ever increasing complexity and interrelated nature of current environmental problems renders it imperative that intelligent planning of pollution abatement systems be undertaken
