Good Manufacturing Guide:

Food and Drink - Good Manufacturing Practice Institute of Food Science and Technology, Louise Manning, 2012-11-26

Good Manufacturing Practice GMP refers to advice and guidance put in place to outline the aspects of production and testing that can impact the quality and safety of a product. In the case of food and drink GMP is aimed at ensuring that products are safe for the consumer and are consistently manufactured to a quality appropriate to their intended use. Manufacturers have for several years been driving towards such goals as Total Quality Management TQM lean manufacturing and sustainability. GMP is bound up with these issues. The ever increasing interest amongst consumers, retailers and enforcement authorities in the conditions and practices in food manufacture and distribution increases the need for the food manufacturer to operate within clearly defined policies such as those laid down in GMP. The ability to demonstrate that Good Manufacturing Practice has been fully and effectively implemented could in the event of a consumer complaint or a legal action reduce the manufacturer's liability and protect them from prosecution. First launched in 1986 IFST's Good Manufacturing Practice Guide has been widely recognized as an indispensable reference work for food scientists and technologists. It sets out to ensure that food manufacturing processes deliver products that are uniform in quality, free from defects and contamination and as safe as it is humanly possible to make them. This 6th edition has been completely revised and updated to include all the latest standards and guidance, especially with regard to legislation driven areas such as HACCP. The Guide is a must have for anyone in a managerial or technical capacity concerned with the manufacture, storage and distribution of food and drink. It is also a valuable reference for food education training and for those involved in food safety and enforcement. Food scientists in academic and industry environments will value its precision and policy makers and regulatory organizations will find it an indispensable guide to an important and multifaceted area. About IFST: IFST is the leading independent qualifying body for food professionals in Europe and the only professional body in the UK concerned with all aspects of food science and technology. IFST members are drawn from all over the world and from all ages and backgrounds including industry, manufacturing, retailing and food service, universities and schools, government, research and development, quality assurance and food law enforcement. IFST qualifications are internationally recognised as a sign of proficiency and integrity. Good Manufacturing Practices for Pharmaceuticals Joseph D. Nally, 2016-04-19. With global harmonization of regulatory requirements and quality standards and national and global business consolidations ongoing at a fast pace, pharmaceutical manufacturers, suppliers, contractors and distributors are impacted by continual change. Offering a wide assortment of policy and guidance, document references and interpretations, this Sixth Edition is significantly expanded to reflect the increase of information and changing practices in cGMP regulation and pharmaceutical manufacturing and control practices worldwide. An essential companion for every pharmaceutical professional, this guide is updated and expanded by a team of industry experts, each member with extensive experience in industry or academic settings. Expert Committee on Biological Standardization, World Health Organization, 2016 This report presents the recommendations of a WHO Expert Committee commissioned to coordinate activities leading to the adoption of international recommendations for the production and control of vaccines and other biological substances and the establishment of international biological reference materials Following a brief introduction the report summarizes a number of general issues brought to the attention of the Committee. The next part of the report of particular relevance to manufacturers and national regulatory authorities outlines the discussions held on the development and adoption of new and revised WHO Recommendations, Guidelines and guidance documents. Following these discussions, a WHO guidance document on Regulatory assessment of approved rDNA derived biotherapeutics was adopted, along with WHO Guidelines on the stability evaluation of vaccines for use under extended controlled temperature conditions and on WHO good manufacturing practices for biological products. In addition, revised WHO Recommendations to assure the quality, safety and efficacy of recombinant human papillomavirus virus-like particle vaccines were also adopted by the Committee. Subsequent sections of the report provide information on the current status and proposed development of international reference materials in the areas of antibiotics, biotherapeutics other than blood products, blood products and related substances, in vitro diagnostic device reagents and vaccines and related substances. A series of annexes are then presented which include an updated list of all WHO Recommendations, Guidelines and other documents on biological substances used in medicine. Annex 1: The above four WHO documents adopted on the advice of the Committee are then published as part of this report. Annexes 2-5: Finally, all additions and discontinuations made during the 2015 meeting to the list of International Standards Reference Reagents and Reference Panels for biological substances maintained by WHO are summarized in Annex 6. The updated full catalog of WHO International Reference Preparations is available at <http://www.who.int/bloodproducts/catalogue/en>.
