Human Reproductive Biology Mark M. Jones, 2012-12-02 Human Reproductive Biology focuses on the processes concerns and trends in human reproduction Divided into four parts with 19 chapters the book starts by tracing the history of human reproduction biology and the questions and choices involved The first part focuses on the male and female reproductive systems The text notes the different organs involved in reproduction including the penis scrotum vagina oviducts and mammary glands The book discusses sexual development and differentiation particularly noting the variance of sex ducts and glands external genitalia and disorders of sexual development and determination The text also looks at puberty Concerns include gonadal changes from birth to puberty mechanisms that influence puberty and puberty and psychosocial adjustment The second part deals with menstrual cycle fertilization pregnancy labor and birth Some of the concerns include length of menstrual cycle absence of menstruation transport of sperm and ovum in the oviduct and semen release The text also highlights labor and birthing processes as well as the relationship of neonates and parents The third part looks at the medical aspects of human reproduction infertility and sexually transmitted diseases Concerns include contraception abortion herpes genitalis and vaginitis The text folds with discussions on human sexual behavior population growth and family planning Concerns include sexual dysfunction the effects of overpopulation and population control The book is a vital source of data for readers interested in human reproduction

Human Reproduction ,1970      Dynamics of Human Reproduction James W. Wood, 2017-09-29 Awarded the W W Howells Award for the Outstanding Book in Biological Anthropology this volume presents a comprehensive integrated and up to date overview of the major physiological and behavioral factors affecting human reproduction In attempting to identify the most important causes of variation in fertility within and among human populations Wood summarizes data from a wide range of societies Trained as an anthropologist as well as a demographer he devotes special attention to so called natural fertility populations in which modern contraceptives and induced abortion are not used to limit reproductive output Such an emphasis enables him to study the interaction of biology and behavior with particular clarity The volume weaves together the physiological demographic and biometric approaches to human fertility in a way that will encourage future interdisciplinary research Instead of offering a general overview the focus is to answer one question Why does fertility and the number of live births vary from couple to couple within any particular population and from population to population across the human species as a whole Topics covered include ovarian function conception and pregnancy intrauterine mortality reproductive maturation and senescence coital frequency and the waiting time to conception marriage patterns and the initiation of reproduction the fertility reducing effects of breastfeeding the impact of maternal nutrition on reproduction and reproductive seasonality This unique combination of comprehensive subject matter and an integrated analytical approach makes the book ideally suited both as a graduate level textbook and as a reference work      Human Reproductive Biology Sylvia S.

Mader,2005 This text presents human reproduction from the biological point of view It is most appropriate for use by non science students who would like a biological understanding of human reproduction The three parts of the book may be studied in whatever sequences the instructor desires Part I contains topics on human inheritance and biotechnology Part II has in depth coverage of fertilization and the major biological events of embryonic and fetal development In Part III the evolution of sexual reproduction is presumed to have increased biological fitness      Human Reproductive Biology
