Addressing nonresponse for categorical data items using full information maximum likelihood with Latent GOLD 5.0 Susan Laine Edwards,Marcus Berzofsky,Paul P. Biemer,2018-09-26 Full information maximum likelihood FIML is an important approach to compensating for nonresponse in data analysis Unfortunately only a few software packages implement FIML and even fewer have the capability to compensate for missing not at random MNAR nonresponse One of these packages is Statistical Innovations Latent GOLD however the user documentation for Latent GOLD provides no mention of this capability The purpose of this paper is to provide guidance for fitting MNAR FIML models for categorical data items using the Latent GOLD 5.0 software By way of comparison we also provide guidance on fitting FIML models for nonresponse missing at random MAR using the methods of Fuchs 1982 and Fay 1986 who incorporated item nonresponse indicators within a structural modeling framework We compare both FIML for MAR and FIML for MNAR nonresponse models for independent and dependent variables Also we provide recommendations for future applications of FIML using Latent GOLD been widely used for a variety of applications including hydrologic forecasting hydrologic design and water resources management These models are based on general mathematical descriptions of the watershed processes that transform natural forcing e g rainfall over the landscape into response e g runoff in the rivers The user of a watershed hydrology model must specify the model parameters before the model is able to properly simulate the watershed behavior
