

Animal Adaptations

The following show a list of adaptations found in plants and animals . Give the function of each adaptation, and identify what habitat this animal can be found.

Adaptations: Their eyes and nostrils close by reflex when the animal goes underwater, and they have a transparent third eyelid, or nictitating membrane, that covers the eye as the animal moves through the water. (Alligators also have a very powerful tail, strong jaws, and thick skin)

Function: The third eye can be drawn down for protection from debris and eyes. The nostrils close to prevent water from entering the lungs.

Animal: American Alligator

Habitat: Wetland

Adaptations: Their sandy colored fur, and very large ears as compared to other fox.

Function: Their sandy fur helps to reflect heat, and also provides excellent camouflage. Large ears are more sensitive which can help the fox hear prey underground. Their large ears also help to cool off bodies heat on hot days in the desert.

Animal: Fennec Fox

Habitat: Savanna Desert

Adaptations: A single blowhole at the top surface of its head. The blowhole is covered by a muscular flap, which provides a watertight seal. A tail fluke and echolocation (works by making a series of clicking sounds then listening for the echo)

Function: The blowhole allows the dolphin to breath oxygen through the lungs. A fluke tail to provide power and optimize speed under water. Echolocation is used to hunt and to locate small objects hundreds of yards away.

Animal: Bottlenose Dolphin

Habitat: Ocean

Conducting Educational Design Research Susan McKenney, Thomas C Reeves, 2013-06-19 Educational design research blends scientific investigation with systematic development and implementation of solutions to educational problems Empirical investigation is conducted in real learning settings not laboratories to craft usable and effective solutions At the same time the research is carefully structured to produce theoretical understanding that can serve the work of others To support graduate students as well as experienced researchers who are new to this approach Conducting Educational Design

Research integrates multiple perspectives of educational design research throughout this three part book Part one clarifies the educational design research origins approach and outcomes It also presents a generic model portraying the overall process Part two discusses the constituent elements of the model in detail these are analysis and exploration design and construction evaluation and reflection and implementation and spread Part three offers recommendations for proposing reporting and advancing educational design research Through related readings and richly varied examples Conducting Educational Design Research offers clear and well documented guidance on how to conceptualize and conduct this stimulating form of inquiry For decades policies for educational research worldwide have swung back and forth between demanding rigor above all other concerns and increasing emphasis on impact These two qualities need not be mutually exclusive This volume supports readers in grasping and realizing the potential of educational design research It demonstrates how rigorous and relevant investigation can yield both theoretical understanding and solutions to urgent educational problems
