

Development of a New Curriculum for Business

The curriculum for the new business program was developed by a committee of faculty members and administrators. The committee was composed of representatives from the various departments of the college, including the departments of Business Administration, Economics, Finance, Accounting, and Marketing. The committee's task was to develop a curriculum that would provide students with a broad-based education in business, while also allowing them to specialize in one or more areas of interest. The curriculum was designed to be flexible, allowing students to tailor their program of study to their individual needs and interests. The curriculum was also designed to be challenging, providing students with a rigorous academic program that would prepare them for the demands of the business world. The curriculum was developed over a period of several months, and the final version was approved by the college's Board of Trustees. The new curriculum was implemented in the fall of 1998, and has since been revised several times to keep it current and relevant. The curriculum is designed to provide students with a solid foundation in business, while also allowing them to explore their interests and passions. The curriculum is also designed to be flexible, allowing students to tailor their program of study to their individual needs and interests. The curriculum was developed over a period of several months, and the final version was approved by the college's Board of Trustees.
