Television Manual John Francis Rider,1959      Progress in Catheter Ablation Liong Bing Liem,Eugene Downar,2013-11-11 Catheter ablation is widely accepted as an effective and safe form of therapy for cardiac arrhythmia In many instances this curative procedure is considered as the first line of therapy if not the ultimate treatment of choice With the use of radiofrequency RF modality which has revolutionized the technology from a barotraumatic potentially injurious procedure using high voltage direct current DC shock to a safe and relatively painless one catheter ablation procedure now carries a very low risk and is extremely effective for certain types of arrhythmia Its efficacy rate in curing supraventricular tachycardia involving an accessory pathway or dual atrioventricular nodal pathways has been near perfect and its application for certain types of atrial and ventricular arrhythmia have also been very satisfactory However conventional RF ablation has several well known limitations most notably is its ability to only produce relatively small point lesions rendering it effective only for an arrhythmia with a small and or a superficial target It was soon recognized that the technology would not likely to have significant utility in arrhythmia with a more widespread target such as atrial fibrillation or those which involve scarred and deep myocardial tissue such as ventricular tachycardia Indeed the application of conventional RF technology in these complex but common arrhythmia has yielded unsatisfactory results      National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),      National Union Catalog ,1982 Includes entries for maps and atlases      National Union Catalog, 1982 ,1983      Whitaker's Book List ,1991      Railroad Magazine ,1961      Consumers Index to Product Evaluations and Information Sources ,1980      Fichero bibliográfico hispanoamericano ,1991      Food and Nutrition Bulletin ,2010      Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2000      Library Journal ,1983      The Woodenboat ,2002      Advertising Requirements ,1959      Host Bibliographic Record for Boundwith Item Barcode 30112044669122 and Others ,2013      Technical Book Review Index ,1987      Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1978      Leg Ulcers 3Ed David Negus,Philip D.
