Simon-Vandenberg, 2018-07-26 This book focuses on how to address persistent linguistically structured inequalities in education primarily in relation to South African schools but also in conversation with Australian work and with resonances for other multilingual contexts around the world The book as a whole lays bare the tension between the commitment to multilingualism enshrined in the South African Constitution and language in education policy and the realities of the dominance of English and the virtual absence of indigenous African languages in current educational practices It suggests that dynamic plurilingual pedagogies can be allied with the explicit scaffolding of genre based pedagogies to help redress asymmetries in epistemic access and to re imagine policies pedagogies and practices more in tune with the realities of multilingual classrooms The contributions to this book offer complementary insights on routes to improving access to school knowledge especially for learners whose home language or language variety is different to that of teaching and learning at school All subscribe to similar ideologies which include the view that multilingualism should be seen as a resource rather than a problem in education Commentaries on these chapters highlight evidence based high impact educational responses and suggest that translanguaging and genre may well offer opportunities for students to expand their linguistic repertoires and to bridge epistemological differences between community and school This book was originally published as a special issue of Language and Education      Introduction to Education Studies Steve Bartlett, Diana Burton, 2024-05-01 In this fully updated sixth edition of this much loved textbook students will be introduced to different ways of looking at education supported by links to classic and contemporary research Built around the essential themes of psychology history policy and sociology this new edition explores a range of contemporary topics found on Education studies courses including UK education policy since 2020 including policy responses to the COVID 19 pandemic Decolonising the curriculum and social justice Education studies and student employability Expanded coverage of cognitive psychological theories of learning

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience      How South Africa Works Jeffrey Herbst,Greg Mills,2015-07-01 The overwhelming challenge that South Africa faces and has to date failed to address is unemployment which falls especially on African youths who were promised a better future after 1994 If the current unemployment challenge is not addressed it will be impossible to sustainably lift many millions of people out of poverty How South Africa Works reviews the country s major economic achievements over the past two decades Through numerous interviews with politicians business leaders and analysts it examines the challenges and opportunities across key productive sectors including agriculture manufacturing services and mining illustrative of the policy challenges that leaders face It scrutinises the social grant and education systems to understand if South Africa has established mechanisms for people not only to escape destitution but be ready to be employed and identifies steps that some of South Africa s most notable entrepreneurs have taken to build world class enterprises Recognising the essential challenge to cultivate more employers to employ people How South Africa Works concludes by offering an agenda and active steps for greater competitiveness for government business and labour      HC 557 - Adult Literacy and Numeracy Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Business, Innovation and Skills Committee,2014-09-08 In light of an OECD survey of 24 countries ranking England and Northern Ireland 22nd for literacy and 21st for numeracy a more joined up Government approach is needed to tackle the alarmingly low levels of adult literacy and numeracy While the Government pledges free training and tuition for any adult who wishes to study English and maths up to and including GCSE level adults with the most limited skills were not aware of the support available There is little rigorous or uniform assessment in place for when adults claim unemployment benefit despite the fact that this is an ideal opportunity to help adults to gain essential skills needed to get a job The Department for Work and Pensions the Department for Business Innovation and Skills and Jobcentre Plus and skills providers should work closely to ensure there is consistent and thorough assessment of skills at the earliest possible stage of unemployment benefit claims The Committee urges a more flexible approach to adult learning both in the types of programme on offer and in the types of funding given by the Government There is also concern about reductions in funding to adult learning schemes and the Government is advised to reverse its decision to cut funding to Unionlearn a scheme which has achieved outstanding results at a fraction of the cost of full time formal education The Government should also move away from its preoccupation with GCSEs as the gold standard of measurement for adult skills as less linear and traditional learning schemes are often more effective      Children's Competencies Development in the Home Learning Environment Frank Niklas,Caroline Cohrssen,Simone Lehl,Amy R.
