

Causes and Effects of the French Revolution

4 pages | 828 words

The French Revolution (1789-1799) was caused by the rivalry between the monarchy of France versus the french republic. For 1000 years Europeans, including the french lived as vassals and the society was divided into three estates. The first estate was made up of the church leaders, the main people who ran the country, and collected constant 'donations' or tax from the lowest class. The second estate was made up of the nobility, who didn't have any sort of significant other than being somewhat related or associated with the church leaders, they also collected tax from the lowest class. The third estate was made up of the commoners of France, there were three types of people in this estate, Bourgeoisie, who in most cases were just as wealthy as the higher estates but wasn't treated the same due to social status, urban labors, and cultural peasants. The third estate made up the majority of the population of France and gave nearly all their earning to pay tax for the first and second estates which caused an uprising within the third estate to make a change to the government (from monarchy to republic) and how they were treated. In Europe, a new movement arose during the time of the renaissance and french revolution, where it was an intercultural and philosophical movement where people started rejecting the teachings of the church and instead looked upon science for the answers, and started prioritizing art and culture over God. Due to the enlightenment people from the third estate started to believe that they shouldn't have been paying all of the taxes and they deserved equality within France. It is also good to take into consideration that there was a famine in France during the winter of 1778, meaning the prices of food, specifically bread was extremely high and brought upon riots over the ridiculous and unaffordable prices. France was in a state of constant change for a total of four years after the storming of the Bastille. Eventually, a group of radicals took over the government and led France, the men that claimed leadership of France was called the Committee of Public Safety. It all started when the leader of the Committee of Public Safety, Robespierre, declared that terror would be "the order of the day" on September 5, 1793. Anyone that wasn't loyal to the revolution and his ways of leading would be tried, arrested, or executed. Robespierre was also the leader of a group called the Jacobins who took extreme measures to change the way the society of France functioned including trying to eradicate Christianity from France and used terror to achieve this. During the reign of terror, people had to take extreme caution in their actions and sayings, due to any sign of opposition to the revolution would mean they could be tried, arrested, or executed. During the reign of terror, there were approximately 17,000 people tried and further executed and 200,000 people were arrested for treason against the Robespierians way. The reign of terror officially ended on July 27, 1794, when Robespierre's enemies devised a plan to overthrow Robespierre and strip...
