Wich, Lian Pin Koh, 2018-05-31 Increasing numbers of ecologists and conservation biologists have begun to explore the use of drone technology to obtain accurate and up to date data on the distribution and density of species as well as the threats to their habitats in their ongoing attempts to conserve and monitor biodiversity Conservation drones are low cost autonomous and operator friendly unmanned aerial vehicles that can be used for surveying mapping and monitoring both habitat and biodiversity They are fast becoming a valuable complement to ground based surveys and satellite imagery for a wide range of ecological and conservation applications The authors pioneered the use of conservation drones for the purpose of monitoring orangutan populations in Southeast Asia They subsequently founded ConservationDrones.org to share their knowledge of building and using drones with colleagues in the wider environmental community This website has proved highly popular and this book aims to further build capacity to use drones and inspire others to adapt emerging technologies for practical conservation
