

THE MISSING MIGRANTS PROJECT

Migrant Deaths on World Borders, Jan-Sept 2014

* These figures refer only to deaths that have been reported; unknown numbers are not recorded, and as such this map represents only a basic overview.

 This refers to deaths that occurred in Europe other than the Mediterranean (T) and India (T). Although deaths are occurring in Central America, more disaggregated data makes it difficult to isolate migration-related deaths.

Iom Report Approaching Death:

Dying in America Institute of Medicine, Committee on Approaching Death: Addressing Key End-of-Life Issues, 2015-03-19
For patients and their loved ones no care decisions are more profound than those made near the end of life Unfortunately the experience of dying in the United States is often characterized by fragmented care inadequate treatment of distressing symptoms frequent transitions among care settings and enormous care responsibilities for families According to this report the current health care system of rendering more intensive services than are necessary and desired by patients and the lack of coordination among programs increases risks to patients and creates avoidable burdens on them and their families Dying in America is a study of the current state of health care for persons of all ages who are nearing the end of life Death is not a strictly medical event Ideally health care for those nearing the end of life harmonizes with social psychological and spiritual support All people with advanced illnesses who may be approaching the end of life are entitled to access to high quality compassionate evidence based care consistent with their wishes Dying in America evaluates strategies to integrate care into a person and family centered team based framework and makes recommendations to create a system that coordinates care and supports and respects the choices of patients and their families The findings and recommendations of this report will address the needs of patients and their families and assist policy makers clinicians and their educational and credentialing bodies leaders of health care delivery and financing organizations researchers public and private funders religious and community leaders advocates of better care journalists and the public to provide the best care possible for people nearing the end of life
