Academic Life in the Measured University Tai Peseta,Simon Barrie,Jan McLean,2020-05-18 While a life in academia is still one bestowed with enormous privilege and opportunity on the inside its cracks and fragility have been on display for some time We see evidence of this in researchers bemoaning time spent applying for grants rather than doing research teachers frustrated at the ways student feedback data are deployed to feed judgements about them and doctoral students realising that they have little chance of securing full time academic work Yet in the public policy domain the opposite appears true academics left to their own devices in their elite ivory towers rarely ever do enough This collection addresses the fact that academic life deserves to be rigorously researched Its emphasis on the measured university traces how academic life had ceded itself to the logics of perverse measures and raises questions about whether the contemporary university may well have become too measured to adequately counter the political times now upon us The contributors explore the ways in which measurement inhabits paradoxical positions in these spaces It sketches the contours and consequences of mismeasurement including the personal costs to academic staff It examines our desires and fumbled efforts at institutional transformation and it puts on display our own ethical conduct The collection concludes with a call to chart a course for a revitalized moral economy of academic labour This book was originally published as a special issue of Higher Education Research

Development Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations,2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events Managing Resource Abundance and Wealth Jonathon W. Moses, Bjørn Letnes, 2017-05-19 Managing Resource Abundance and Wealth The Norwegian Experience describes the sundry and significant challenges both economic and political facing petroleum producing countries The volume outlines the pitfalls that policymakers encounter in the aftermath of a major resource discovery and what they can do to protect their countries from the most adverse consequences These lessons are derived from two very different sources The broader if still underdeveloped social science literature that examines the Paradox of Plenty in its disparate forms and the experience of a country that has successfully managed its natural resources over several decades As a small country on the margins of Europe Norway has stood up to powerful international interests in one of the world's most powerful industries Norway has exerted sovereign control over its natural environment and exploited its resources in a way that has delivered significant wealth to its citizens This volume explains how Norway has largely avoided the Paradox of Plenty It aims to demonstrate the variety of policy tools that are available to states rich in natural resources and how these tools can be adjusted to changing domestic and international contexts It considers a number of questions such as how countries need to administer and regulate the industry to consider the costs and benefits associated with various contract and licensing regimes and fiscal arrangements to maintain competitiveness and avoid becoming too dependent upon the sector to maximize local content and to protect the broader economy from the volatility of petroleum prices The volume shows how the industry can be managed in a democratic just and ethical manner and for the benefit of the general population Edinburgh Companion to Modern Jewish Fiction David Brauner, 2015-06-07 This book provides a critical overview of the main writers and key themes of Anglophone Jewish fiction highlighting the rich diversity of the field identifying key themes analysing the main trends in Anglophone Jewish fiction and situating them in a historical context No Last Place to Rest Dineo Skosana, 2025-02 No Last Place to Rest Coal Mining and Dispossession in South Africa is an exploration of the ongoing struggles faced by families whose lives have been upended by the relentless expansion of coal mining operations in the Mpumalanga and KwaZulu Natal provinces These regions burdened with the task of fulfilling the nation's energy needs and boosting the country's economy witness daily the harsh realities of land dispossession that extend far beyond the mere loss of property Dineo Skosana presents a compelling argument that dispossession remains a present day reality and crisis contradicting the notion that it is merely a relic of the past in the post apartheid landscape She challenges the narrow perspective that measures land loss in material and economic terms only By considering the impact of grave relocations a common occurrence in these mining dominated locales she demonstrates the profound spiritual anguish and dehumanisation communities endure as their lands are excavated and families lose their sacred connections with their ancestors Skosana argues that the act of dispossession of both the living and the dead from their land wounds the collective soul of a people eroding their cultural heritage collective identity and sense of belonging This book offers a rich ethnographic account of the experiences struggles and resistance of the affected communities as well as a critical analysis of the legal and policy frameworks that enable their exploitation In relation to the land question in South Africa No Last Place to Rest presents deep insights for communities activists and government sectors acting in support of social justice and redress Resistance Shane Moran, 2021-04-19 In Resistance Sol Plaatje and South Africa Shane Moran studies Sol Plaatje the founding secretary of what was to become the African National Congress ANC and his work within the context of colonial politics and resistance Arguing for a return to the study of one of the founders of anti racism Moran explores issues of land reform human rights and the legacy of colonialism Through an in depth analysis of Plaatje s resistance to racial domination Moran examines the nature of the struggles that continue within and beyond South Africa today In particular Moran analyzes events from the beginning of the previous century that shaped post 1994 South Africa such as the resolution of the ANC to expropriate land without compensation The Contested Idea of South Africa Sabelo J.

Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Busani Ngcaweni, 2021-11-29 This book reflects on the complex and contested idea of South Africa drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Ever since the delineation of South Africa as a country the many diverse groups of people contained within its borders have struggled to translate a mere geographical description into the identity of a people Today the new struggles for South Africa and to become South African are inextricably intertwined with complex challenges of transformation xenophobia claims of reverse racism social justice economic justice service delivery and the resurgent decolonization struggles reverberating inside the universities This book covers the genealogy of the idea of South Africa exploring how the country has been conceived of by a broad group of actors including the British Afrikaners diverse African nationalist traditions and new formations such as the Economic Freedom Fighters EFF Black First Land First BLF and student formations Rhodes Must Fall Fees Must Fall Over the course of the book a broad range of themes are covered including identity formation modernity race ethnicity indigeneity autochthony land gender intellectual traditions poetics of South Africanness language popular culture truth and reconciliation and national development planning Concluding with important reflections on how a colonial imaginary can be changed into a free and inclusive postcolonial nation state this book will be an important read for Africanist researchers from across the humanities and social sciences Research in
