An abstract summarizes, usually in one paragraph of between 150–250 words, the major aspects of a research paper or dissertation in a prescribed sequence that includes: The overall purpose of the study and the research problem(s) you investigated. You are basically justifying why this study was conducted. Do not provide lengthy background information or cite other papers here. Next, provide information regarding the method, explaining what was done and how. Summarize the key findings or trends found as a result of your analysis. Finally, a summary of your conclusions and implications of the results, described in the present tense. Explain to the reader what the results mean. For example, what changes should be implemented as a result of the findings of the work?
