Homeless Advocacy and the Rhetorical Construction of the Civic Home Melanie Loehwing, 2018-10-30 Homeless assistance has frequently adhered to the three hots and a cot model which prioritizes immediate material needs but may fail to address the political and social exclusion of people experiencing homelessness In this study Loehwing reconsiders typical characterizations of homelessness citizenship and democratic community through unconventional approaches to homeless advocacy and assistance While conventional homeless advocacy rhetoric establishes the urgency of homeless suffering it also implicitly invites housed publics to understand homelessness as a state of abnormality that destines the individuals suffering it to life outside the civic body In contrast Loehwing focuses on atypical models of homeless advocacy the meal sharing initiatives of Food Not Bombs the international competition of the Homeless World Cup and the annual Homeless Persons Memorial Day campaign She argues that these modes of unconventional homeless advocacy provide rhetorical exemplars of a type of inclusive and empowering civic discourse that is missing from conventional homeless advocacy and may be indispensable for overcoming homeless marginalization and exclusion in contemporary democratic culture Loehwing's interrogation of homeless advocacy rhetorics demonstrates how discursive practices shape democratic culture and how they may provide a potential civic remedy to the harms of disenfranchisement discrimination and displacement This book will be welcomed by scholars whose work focuses on the intersections of democratic theory and rhetorical and civic studies as well as by homelessness advocacy groups

Embodiment and the Inner Life Murray Shanahan, 2010 To understand the mind and its place in Nature is one of the great intellectual challenges of our time a challenge that is both scientific and philosophical How does cognition influence an animal's behaviour What are its neural underpinnings How is the inner life of a human being constituted What are the neural underpinnings of the conscious condition Embodiment and the Inner Life approaches each of these questions from a scientific standpoint But it contends that before we can make progress on them we have to give up the habit of thinking metaphysically a habit that creates a fog of philosophical confusion From this post reflective point of view the book argues for an intimate relationship between cognition sensorimotor embodiment and the integrative character of the conscious condition Drawing on insights from psychology neuroscience and dynamical systems it proposes an empirical theory of this three way relationship whose principles not being tied to the contingencies of biology or physics are applicable to the whole space of possible minds in which humans and other animals are included Embodiment and the Inner Life is one of very few books that provides a properly joined up theory of consciousness and will be essential reading for all psychologists philosophers and neuroscientists with an interest in the enduring puzzle of consciousness
