The Harpsichord Stringing Handbook Thomas Donahue,2015-06-11 The harpsichord was the standard keyboard instrument for three centuries before the invention of the piano It enjoyed a revival in the second half of the twentieth century but because of the interruption in its history as a more regularly used instrument many details about its construction are lacking In The Harpsichord Stringing Handbook Thomas Donahue integrates available historical evidence and modern physical principles from both musicological and scientific literature to provide practical quantitative information about the stringing of this instrument The Harpsichord Stringing Handbook covers the composition and properties of iron and brass wire the interrelationship of frequency to string length safety factors involved with stringing the scaling of string lengths the calculation of diameters and the determination of the transition from iron to brass in mixed strung instruments Supplemental topics include the elasticity and plasticity of wire inharmonicity tension and stress and the interpolation of string lengths Additional material includes data on selected historical harpsichords absolute diameters of historical gauge numbering systems a generated list of tensile strength values for historical wire and sizes and tensile strengths of currently available wire This book offers specific guidance for instrument makers restorers curators technicians musicians kit builders wire manufacturers and acousticians filling in critical details that historical treatises and surviving instruments may not clearly address

Between Air and Electricity Cathy van Eck,2017-02-09 Composers and sound artists have explored for decades how to transform microphones and loudspeakers from inaudible technology into genuinely new musical instruments While the sound reproduction industry had claimed perfect high fidelity already at the beginning of the twentieth century these artists found surprising ways of use for instance tweaking microphones swinging loudspeakers furiously around ditching microphones in all kinds of vessels or strapping loudspeakers to body parts of the audience Between air and electricity traces their quest and sets forward a new theoretical framework providing historic background on technological and artistic development and diagrams of concert and performance set ups From popular noise musician Merzbow to minimalist classic

Alvin Lucier cult instrument inventor Hugh Davies or contemporary visual artist Lynn Pook they all aimed to make audible what was supposed to remain silent

Emerging Solutions for Musical Arts Education in Africa Pan African Society for Musical Arts Education, 2005 Emerging Solutions for Musical arts Education in South Africa offers peer reviewed articles prepared for the 2003 Conference of the Pan African Society for Musical Arts Education in Africa held in Kisumu Maseno Kenya Not only does this publication voice the solutions offered by 31 authors from the African continent and beyond but it presents in a unique and highly accessible fashion the collective voice of the conference participants True to the spirit of ubuntu an individual is only a person through other people their communities this publication is a reflection of the essence of an overarching sub Saharan philosophy the contents represents a conference where papers were not presented but where conference participants engaged to discuss solutions for the musical arts on the African continent While the individual voice has been given its rightful place the collective voice represents an emergent song composed by the scholarly community in oral fashion This publication provides insight into the problems of musical arts education in Africa and solutions for musical arts education
