

Authors note: I really dislike it lol. It was written on a whim.

January 7th, 1863.

Dear Elizabeth:

Life at the south has been a nightmare. Our days have been filled with screams and moans of dying men and pain due to the absence of them at home. Yet, I am glad that the war could possibly mean the end of slavery. Ever since the Emancipation Proclamation, a rush of emotional revolution fulfilled me, hence I had the need to share it with you.

No one deserves to be a slave. No race or gender is destined to be used as objects. Not even the wilderness, that has been used by men since the beginning of times for brutal works; cruelty shouldn't be applied to animals either. Slavery is the worst act human kind has ever done; how unsettling it is to see people longing for slavery to be kept. Keeping a slave means tearing apart a family, taking away parents from children, separating lovers, taking apart brothers, part young boys from weeping mothers... Slavery is an act of evil which makes the human race deserve to fall in the flaming pits hell.

After listening to the president, I went out looking for people who felt the emotional revolution too. Most of the doors I knocked on were closed at me, but I did gather a bunch of people. There's still hope for us. We've been helping those that were slaves at their refuges and also to maintain their households. They're victims of war too, therefore not such a title of slavery should be placed upon them. We all are slaves of the evil within men.

I hope this letter makes more than moving your heart. Take power of action in your hands and do what's best for your country. I hope we meet sometime at the end of battle.

Yours Truly,

Diane Hodsworth

James M. McPherson, 1997-04-03 General John A Wickham commander of the famous 101st Airborne Division in the 1970s and subsequently Army Chief of Staff once visited Antietam battlefield Gazing at Bloody Lane where in 1862 several Union assaults were brutally repulsed before they finally broke through he marveled You couldn't get American soldiers today to make an attack like that Why did those men risk certain death over and over again through countless bloody battles and four long awful years Why did the conventional wisdom that soldiers become increasingly cynical and disillusioned as war progresses not hold true in the Civil War It is to this question why did they fight that James McPherson America's preeminent Civil War historian now turns his attention He shows that contrary to what many scholars believe the soldiers of the Civil War remained powerfully convinced of the ideals for which they fought throughout the conflict Motivated by duty and honor and often by religious faith these men wrote frequently of their firm belief in the cause for which they fought the principles of liberty freedom justice and patriotism Soldiers on both sides harkened back to the Founding Fathers and the ideals of the American Revolution They fought to defend their country either the Union the best Government ever made or the

Confederate states where their very homes and families were under siege And they fought to defend their honor and manhood I should not like to go home with the name of a coward one Massachusetts private wrote and another private from Ohio said My wife would sooner hear of my death than my disgrace Even after three years of bloody battles more than half of the Union soldiers reenlisted voluntarily While duty calls me here and my country demands my services I should be willing to make the sacrifice one man wrote to his protesting parents And another soldier said simply I still love my country McPherson draws on more than 25 000 letters and nearly 250 private diaries from men on both sides Civil War soldiers were among the most literate soldiers in history and most of them wrote home frequently as it was the only way for them to keep in touch with homes that many of them had left for the first time in their lives Significantly their letters were also uncensored by military authorities and are uniquely frank in their criticism and detailed in their reports of marches and battles relations between officers and men political debates and morale For Cause and Comrades lets these soldiers tell their own stories in their own words to create an account that is both deeply moving and far truer than most books on war Battle Cry of Freedom McPherson s Pulitzer Prize winning account of the Civil War was a national bestseller that Hugh Brogan in The New York Times called history writing of the highest order For Cause and Comrades deserves similar accolades as McPherson s masterful prose and the soldiers own words combine to create both an important book on an often overlooked aspect of our bloody Civil War and a powerfully moving account of the men who fought it

policies and attitudes of Union officers toward emancipation in the western theater were at best inconsistent and fraught with internal strains But after Congress passed the Second Confiscation Act in 1862 army policy became mostly consistent in its support of liberating the slaves in general in spite of Union army officers differences of opinion By 1863 and the final Emancipation Proclamation the army had transformed into the key force for instituting emancipation in the West However Kristopher Teters argues that the guiding principles behind this development in attitudes and policy were a result of military necessity and pragmatic strategies rather than an effort to enact racial equality Through extensive research in the letters and diaries of western Union officers Teters demonstrates how practical considerations drove both the attitudes and policies of Union officers regarding emancipation Officers primarily embraced emancipation and the use of black soldiers because they believed both policies would help them win the war and save the Union but their views on race actually changed very little In the end however despite its practical bent Teters argues the Union army was instrumental in bringing freedom to the slaves
