Common Law Constitutional Rights Mark Elliott, Kirsty Hughes, 2020-04-16 There is a developing body of legal reasoning in the United Kingdom Supreme Court in which members of the senior judiciary have asserted the primary role of common law constitutional rights and critiqued legal arguments based first and foremost on the Human Rights Act 1998 Their calls for a shift in legal reasoning have created a sense amongst both scholars and the judiciary that something significant is happening Yet despite renewed academic and judicial interest we have limited insight into what common law constitutional rights we have how they work and what they offer This book is the first collection of its kind to systematically explore both the content and role of individual common law constitutional rights alongside the constitutional significance and broader implications of these developments It therefore contributes not only to our understanding of what the common law might be capable of offering in terms of the protection of rights but also to our understanding of the nature of the constitutional order of which such rights are an integral part Living by the Gun in Chad Marielle Debos, 2016-10-15 How do people live in a country that has experienced rebellions and state organised repressions for decades and that is still marked by routine forms of violence and impunity What do combatants do when they are not mobilised for war Drawing on over ten years of fieldwork conducted in Chad Marielle Debos explains how living by the gun has become both an acceptable form of political expression and an everyday occupation Contrary to the popular association of violence and chaos she shows that these fighters continue to observe rules frontiers and hierarchies even as their allegiances shift between rebel and government forces and as they drift between Chad Libya Sudan and the Central African Republic Going further she explores the role of the globalised politico military entrepreneurs and highlights the long involvement of the French military in the country Ultimately the book demonstrates that ending the war is not enough The issue is ending the inter war which is maintained and reproduced by state violence Combining ethnographic observation with in depth theoretical analysis Living by the Gun in Chad is a crucial contribution to our understanding of the intersections of war and peace American Book Publishing Record R.R. Bowker Company, 1978 Long Journey to the Border Vincent O'Sullivan, 2011 John Mulgan was part of a gifted yet uneasy group of young New Zealanders who made their mark between the wars men such as Ian Milner James Bertram Dan Davin and Geoffrey Cox An Oxford graduate he worked as a publisher at Oxford University Press before leaving for the front in World War Two Fascinated but sometimes troubled by his home country Mulgan saw New Zealand as a place of challenge and austere demands a land that produced men more practical than cultivated In his famous novel Man Alone he depicted it as a tough often heartless country characterised by the solitary figure who has come to symbolise the male New Zealand psyche He wrote more warmly of the place and the people in the poignant memoir Report on Experience published after his death Mulgan was a glamorous figure handsome gifted and good at anything he attempted His last years were spent fighting in the Allied cause in Egypt and Greece where he distinguished himself But there were darker threads too which culminated in his decision to take his own life in Cairo just after the end of the war and aged only 33 In this penetrating biography Vincent O Sullivan draws on a large collection of personal papers official records and contemporary memoirs to paint a vivid portrait of a man who came to represent so much about his country and his time American Book Publishing Record Cumulative, 1950-1977: Non-Dewey decimal classified titles R.R. Bowker Company. Department of Bibliography, 1978 Albert Taylor Bledsoe Terry A. Barnhart, 2011-06-10 Albert Taylor Bledsoe 1809 1877 a principle architect of the South s Lost Cause mythology remains one of the Civil War generation s leading and most controversial intellectuals In Albert Taylor Bledsoe Defender of the Old South and Architect of the Lost Cause Terry A Barnhart sheds new light on this provocative figure his diverse interests and his divisive ideas This biography the first ever published of its subject skillfully weaves Bledsoe's multifarious and extraordinary life history into a narrative that illustrates the events that shaped his opinions and influenced his writings Barnhart's account demonstrates how Bledsoe still speaks directly and sometimes eloquently to the core issues that divided the nation in the 1860s and continue to haunt it today

Black Yanks in the Pacific Michael Cullen Green, 2011-05-02 By the end of World War II many black citizens viewed service in the segregated American armed forces with distaste if not disgust Meanwhile domestic racism and Jim Crow ongoing Asian struggles against European colonialism and prewar calls for Afro Asian solidarity had generated considerable black ambivalence toward American military expansion in the Pacific in particular the impending occupation of Japan However over the following decade black military service enabled tens of thousands of African Americans to interact daily with Asian peoples encounters on a scale impossible prior to 1945 It also encouraged African Americans to share many of the same racialized attitudes toward Asian peoples held by their white counterparts and to identify with their government's foreign policy objectives in Asia In Black Yanks in the Pacific Michael Cullen Green tells the story of African American engagement with military service in occupied Japan war torn South Korea and an emerging empire of bases anchored in those two nations After World War II African Americans largely embraced the socioeconomic opportunities afforded by service overseas despite the maintenance of military segregation into the early 1950s while strained Afro Asian social relations in Japan and South Korea encouraged a sense of insurmountable difference from Asian peoples By the time the Supreme Court declared de jure segregation unconstitutional in its landmark 1954 Brown v Board of Education decision African American investment in overseas military expansion was largely secured Although they were still subject to discrimination at home many African Americans had come to distrust East Asian peoples and to accept the legitimacy of an expanding military empire abroad
