Language Policy and Planning in Universities Anthony J. Liddicoat, 2018-10-18 In a world where higher education is increasingly internationalised questions of language use and multilingualism are central to the ways in which universities function in teaching research and administration Contemporary universities find themselves in complex linguistic environments that may include national level language policies local linguistic diversity an internationalised student body increasing international collaboration in research and increased demand for the use and learning of international languages especially English The book presents a critical analysis of how universities are responding these complexities in different contexts around the world The contributions show that language issues in universities are complex and often contested as universities try to negotiate the national and the international in their work In some contexts universities language policies and the ways in which they are implemented may have a negative impact on their ways of working In other contexts however universities have embraced multilingualism in ways that have opened up new academic possibilities for staff and students Collectively the chapters show that universities language policy and planning are a work in progress and that much further work is needed for universities to achieve their language goals This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning

Early Language Learning in Context David Hayes, 2022-08-19 This book critically analyses early school foreign language teaching policy and practice foregrounding the influence of the socioeducational and cultural context on how policies are implemented and assessing the factors which either promote or constrain their effectiveness It focuses on four Asian contexts Malaysia South Korea Sri Lanka and Thailand while providing a discussion of policy and practice in Canada and Finland as a comparison Concentrating on the state school sector it criticises the worldwide trend for a focus on English as the principal or only foreign language taught in primary schools founded on a rationale that widespread proficiency in English is important for future national success in a globalised economy It maintains that the economic rationale is not only largely unfounded and irrelevant to the language learning experiences of young children but also that the focus on English exacerbates system inequalities rather than contributing to their reduction The book argues for a broader perspective on language learning in primary schools one that values multilingualism and knowledge of regional and indigenous languages alongside a more diverse range of foreign languages This book will appeal to educational policymakers researchers and students interested in early foreign language learning in state educational systems worldwide

The Russian "House" Jason C. Vaughn, 2018-10-15 The Russian House An Examination of Post Soviet Russian Culture in the Times of Putin examines Russian society as considered by the Russian people This study recognizes the political economic and social structure of post Soviet Russia in the 2010s era given that the Russian citizenry the ethnic and the civil still desires and recognizes the need for reform while still relying on a host of ideas which Russian society and culture reflexively fall back on This book will examine categorizations as separated into five co equal constructs that this book will posit to be axiomatic of Russian culture and worthy of consideration in further view of the possibility for Russia to one day become a stable and prosperous country without authoritarianism bloodshed militarism or excess nationalism

The Anglophone Question and Postcolonial Hegemony in Cameroon Lyombe Eko, 2025-01-15 The Anglophone Question Postcolonial Hegemony in Cameroon The Past that Did Not Pass is a comprehensive collection of essays and analyses that explore the historical colonial postcolonial legal and international relations aspects of the politico cultural and linguistic crisis between the English speaking former British Southern Cameroons now divided into the Northwest and Southwest regions and the French speaking majority of the former French Cameroon la R publique du Cameroun This conflict has shaken Cameroon to its core since the 1990s and led to an armed conflict between the government of Cameroon and Anglophone non state armed groups The premise of this book is that the Anglophone Question the problematic situation of the muted English and Pidgin speaking minority in French Cameroon is one of the unfinished items of business of World War I and the Treaty of Versailles of 1919 that resolved the conflicts of that great conflict The Anglophone conflict has been exacerbated by the authoritarian republican chieftaincy that was installed in Cameroon after independence and reunification This neo patrimonial kleptocratic regime of Cameroon has with the support of its international partners emphasized the argument of force rather than the force of argument thereby creating yet another frozen African conflict The Anglophone Question cannot vanish by some political maneuver as Cameroon's senile nonagenarian president has done over the decades with his ossified knee excruciatingly painful on the nation's neck That is my takeaway after reading this insightful well argued exhaustively researched highly intellectualized yet practical compendium of chapters that bear an unapologetic witness to the horrific Anglophone Problem I celebrate the authors' fearlessness articulation and lucid presentation as the establishment continues to seal its ears with candle wax I'll reverse President Paul Biya's mantra and say Rule 1 There is an Anglophone Problem Rule 2 When in doubt consult Rule 1 Uche Onyebadi PhD Texas Christian University Texas USA
