Student-Led Assessment Starr Sackstein, 2024-01-03. The single greatest authority on student learning is the student doing the learning, but the right structures must be in place for students' voices to be clearly heard and truly valued. Conventional formative and summative assessment are most often conducted through one-size-fits-all quizzes and tests that yield narrow, predetermined categories of data about students' academic progress. But if we want a truly accurate look at what, how, and to what extent students are learning, who better to consult than the obvious experts on the matter: the students themselves. In this lively and comprehensive guide, veteran teacher and author Starr Sackstein provides the tools needed to help students compile and present evidence of learning through portfolios and student-led conferences, from templates and rubrics to personal testimonials, reflection questions, and activities. The book features forms applicable across grade levels and content areas for unpacking standards, co-constructing success criteria with students, evaluating current classroom practices, and more. Real-life perspectives and scenarios from educators in the field who have embraced portfolios and student-led conferences over standardized tests and letter grades. Practical, experience-based guidance for building classroom and schoolwide learning cultures that promote both learner agency and academic achievement. The resources, recommendations, and reflections in Student-Led Assessment allow educators at all levels to develop systems and protocols for ensuring student ownership of and pride in their own hard-won achievement.

Assessment for Learning: Meeting the Challenge of Implementation Dany Laveault, Linda Allal, 2016-08-15. This book provides new perspectives on Assessment for Learning (AFL) on the challenges encountered in its implementation and on the diverse ways of meeting these challenges. It brings together contributions from authors working in a wide range of educational contexts: Australia, Canada, England, Germany, New Zealand, Norway, Israel, Philippines, Scotland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, the United States. It reflects the issues, innovations, and critical reflections that are emerging in an expanding international network of researchers, professional development providers, and policy makers, all of whom work closely with classroom teachers and school leaders to improve the assessment of student learning. The concept of Assessment for Learning, initially formulated in 1999 by the Assessment Reform Group in the United Kingdom, has inspired new ways of conceiving and practicing classroom assessment in education systems around the world. This book examines assessment for learning in a broad perspective, which includes diverse approaches to formative assessment, some emphasizing teacher intervention, others student involvement in assessment as well as some forms of summative assessment designed to support student learning The focus is on assessment in K 12 classrooms and on the continuing professional learning of teachers and school leaders working with these classrooms Readers of this volume will encounter well documented accounts of AfL implementation across a large spectrum of conditions in different countries and thereby acquire better understanding of the challenges that emerge in the transition from theory and policy to classroom practice They will also discover a wealth of ideas for implementing assessment for learning in an effective and sustainable manner The chapters are grouped in three Parts 1 Assessment Policy Enactment in Education Systems 2 Professional Development and Collaborative Learning about Assessment 3 Assessment Culture and the Co Regulation of Learning An introduction to each Part provides an overview and presents the suggestions and recommendations formulated in the chapters Leading the Common Core State Standards Cheryl A. Akin-Little, 2014-01-21 Serving students with academic deficiencies necessitates communication and collaboration among professionals from several disciplines Academic Assessment and Intervention brings together divergent approaches in order to demonstrate that scientific evidence rather than biases or previous practice must determine assessment practices that are selected and used for particular purposes. Similar to a handbook in its comprehensive topical coverage, this edited collection provides a contextual foundation for academic assessment and intervention, describes both norm-referenced and curriculum-based assessment measurement in detail, considers the implications of both of these assessments on ethnically diverse populations, provides a clear link between assessment evidence-based interventions and the RTI model, and considers other important topics related to this area such as teacher behavior. Intended primarily for graduate-level courses in education, school psychology, or child clinical psychology, it will also be of interest to practicing professionals in these fields.

The Mother of All Booklists William Patrick Martin, 2014-12-24. The Mother of All Booklists: The 500 Most Recommended Nonfiction Reads for Ages 3 to 103 is written for parents, grandparents, and teachers unfamiliar with the bewildering array of award and recommended reading lists. This book is a long overdue composite of all the major booklists. It brings together over 100 of the most influential book awards and reading lists from leading magazines, newspapers, reference books, schools, libraries, parenting organizations, and professional groups from across the country. The Mother of All Booklists is to reading books what the website Rotten Tomatoes is to watching movies: the ultimate one-stop synthesizing resource for finding out what is best. Mother is not the opinion of one book critic but the aggregate opinion of an army of critics. Organized into five age-group lists, each with one hundred books: preschoolers ages 3-5, early readers ages 5-9, middle readers ages 9-13, young adults ages 13-17, and adults ages 18+. The Mother of All Booklists amalgamates the knowledge of the best English language booklists in the United States, including a few from Canada and Great Britain. Each of the 500 books is annotated, describing the contents of the book and suggesting why the book is unique and important. Each includes a picture of the book cover.

Preparing STEM Teachers Joanne E. Goodell, Selma Koç, 2020-09-01. STEM project-based instruction is a pedagogical approach that is gaining popularity across the USA. However, there are very few teacher education programs that focus specifically on preparing graduates to teach in project-based environments. This book is focused on the UTeach program, a STEM teacher education model that is being implemented across the USA in 46 universities. Originally focused only on mathematics and science, many UTeach programs are now offering engineering and computer science licensure programs as well. This book provides a forum to disseminate how different institutions have implemented the UTeach model in their local context. Topics discussed will include sustainability features of the model and how program assessment, innovative instructional programming, classroom research, and effectiveness research have contributed to its success. The objectives of the book are: To help educators gain insight into a teacher education organizational model focused on STEM and how and why it was developed; To present the theoretical underpinnings of a STEM education model, i.e., deep learning, conceptual understanding; To present innovative instructional programming in teacher education, i.e., project-based instruction, functions, and modeling research methods; To present research and practice in classroom and field implementation and future research.
