Life Orientation Gr11 L/b , Life Orientation Gr12 T/g , Nals Gr1:english Teachers Gde , International Encyclopedia of Education ,2009-04-17 The field of education has experienced extraordinary technological societal and institutional change in recent years making it one of the most fascinating yet complex fields of study in social science Unequalled in its combination of authoritative scholarship and comprehensive coverage International Encyclopedia of Education Third Edition succeeds two highly successful previous editions 1985 1994 in aiming to encapsulate research in this vibrant field for the twenty first century reader Under development for five years this work encompasses over 1 000 articles across 24 individual areas of coverage and is expected to become the dominant resource in the field Education is a multidisciplinary and international field drawing on a wide range of social sciences and humanities disciplines and this new edition comprehensively matches this diversity The diverse background and multidisciplinary subject coverage of the Editorial Board ensure a balanced and objective academic framework with 1 500 contributors representing over 100 countries capturing a complete portrait of this evolving field A totally new work revamped with a wholly new editorial board structure and brand new list of meta sections and articles Developed by an international panel of editors and authors drawn from senior academia Web enhanced with supplementary multimedia audio and video files hotlinked to relevant references and sources for further study Incorporates ca 1 350 articles with timely coverage of such topics as technology and learning demography and social change globalization and adult learning to name a few Offers two content delivery options print and online the latter of which provides anytime anywhere access for multiple users and superior search functionality via ScienceDirect as well as multimedia content including audio and video files Life and Moral Education in Greater China John Chi-Kin Lee,Stephen Yam-wing Yip,Raymond Ho-Man Kong,2021-03-29 Arguing for life moral and values education as a bedrock for the original goals of school education this monograph explores how life and values education is conceptualised and imparted in Greater China Under a globalized transnational and technological world where there has been an increase in people s mobility in information and cultural exchanges there is also a growing emphasis on personal and professional ethics Against this context life moral and values education has gained attention for its impact on shaping students characters as future citizens However the cultivation of these values is made deeply diversified and complex by varying interpretations of life education and values education across societies given that different societies are influenced by different socio cultural traditions educational ideologies and religious beliefs The means and approaches towards life education also vary vastly from formal school subjects school based programmes as well as teachers and peers role modelling community services extra curricular activities school discipline charity work pastoral care and school ethos Recognising this inherent diversity and complexity in the approach to and the dissemination of life education the contributors to this volume survey the practice of life education in Greater China so far suggesting that life education is most effective when it is diversified dynamic and developmental across contexts This book will provide the opportunity for engaging in important and serious debates about the future and the values that will underpin it and will prove of special interest to scholars and practitioners working on education policies curriculum development and teacher education in Greater China Human Rights, Diversity, and National Identity Patricia E. Bromley, 2011 Fundamental world changes that simultaneously undermine a nation state's charisma and promote the rise of a supra national system have wide ranging effects upon national states within a modern global society My dissertation empirically examines the effects of social and cultural globalization on systems of mass schooling which are central institutions in every country Globally primary and secondary education initially emerged as the premier tool for nation states to create a unified national citizenry loyal to their country and socialized into a common cultural tradition I examine the extent to which this original nationalizing purpose of schooling is challenged by the increased emphases on universal human rights and diversity in civic education The analyses consist of two sections Hierarchical linear models are used to analyze a unique primary data source of 521 social science textbooks from 74 countries during the period 1970-2008 These findings show a worldwide increase in emphasis on human rights and increases in discussions of diversity in well established liberal democracies Cross national quantitative analyses are complemented by a qualitative case study of social science curricula in British Columbia BC which examines nation building within a context of strong emphasis on diversity and human rights The BC study utilizes currently approved high school citizenship education textbooks as well as older textbooks dating back to 1871 It also draws on a selection of historical documents including Ministry of Education reports curricular frameworks and high school exit exams Process wise I find the incorporation of human rights and diversity reflects macro level changes in national and global society Content wise I find four main approaches to reconciling ideas of human rights and diversity with national identity 1 framing human rights and multiculturalism as part of national identity 2 using pedagogical approaches that promote multiple perspectives and individual agency 3 celebrating social and scientific figures and accomplishments as the source of national pride and 4 drawing on exogenous sources to affirm state legitimacy This study is one of the first to theorize that civic education worldwide is moving away from a national focus and to provide empirical evidence of this trend A key implication is that educational systems are being repurposed from their original goal of constructing a unitary national citizenry to a new view emphasizing human diversity and equality in a globally interconnected world Further students are increasingly taught that the global civil society and non state actors are important and legitimate agents of social change Social and Emotional Learning as Foundation for Future Readiness Chong Myung Park, Lea Ferrari, Andreea-Diana Scoda, Nurten Karacan Ozdemir, Gloria Marsay, V. Scott H. Solberg, 2025-04-16 The book offers a global perspective on social and emotional learning skills SEL by summarizing findings from a collaborative multi national and cross cultural study of educator perceptions regarding the nature and value of SEL skills conducted by career development researchers from 19 countries In addition to promoting success in education SEL skills serve as the durable human skills that support success in the world of work The chapters explore research from three key regions the Global South Asia and the Global North Alongside comparative analyses of SEL the book highlights strategies for designing culturally responsive interventions to develop SEL and future readiness skills Each region provides tailored recommendations for implementing SEL and career development programs and services This collaborative research effort offers a unique opportunity to reexamine assumptions underpinning career development theory and practice It presents a transformative research model that conceptualizes SEL skills policies and practices that are responsive to the diverse sociopolitical contexts and cultural values found in different regions around the world
