physical chemical or mechanical means is called sterilization Sterilization can be accomplished by using heat filtration and gases A satisfactory sterilization process is designed to ensure a high probability of achieving sterility This author in the seventh chapter Sterilization have described the basic principles of sterilization factors influencing the effectiveness of antimicrobial agents various physical and chemical agents and other agents of sterilization The strain development is a primary step in the process of fermentation or growth studies carried out in any fermentation process or microbiological research which enables to increase the population of microorganisms from stock culture to obtain cells in an active and exponential growth phase The author in the eighth chapter Strain development and improvement have described the historical prospective of fermentation with reference to brewing and bakers yeast development of inoculum for bacteria and fungi He has described the conventional Metagenomics genetic engineering and mutation selection and latest strain improvement methods such as the genomic transcriptome proteomic and metabolome analysis Microbial culture preservation aims at maintaining a microbial strain alive uncontaminated without variation or mutation The author in the ninth chapter Culture Preservation describes the relevance of various culture preservation techniques with the objective of maintaining live strains uncontaminated and to prevent change in their characteristics
