Good Boys, Bad Hombres Michael V Singh,2024-04-16 The unintended consequences of youth empowerment programs for Latino boys Educational research has long documented the politics of punishment for boys and young men of color in schools but what about the politics of empowerment and inclusion In Good Boys Bad Hombres Michael V Singh focuses on this aspect of youth control in schools asking on whose terms a positive Latino manhood gets to be envisioned Based on two years of ethnographic research in an urban school district in California Good Boys Bad Hombres examines Latino Male Success a school based mentorship program for Latino boys Instead of attempting to shape these boys lives through the threat of punishment the program aims to provide an invitation to a respectable and productive masculinity framed as being rooted in traditional Latinx signifiers of manhood Singh argues however that the promotion of this aspirational form of Latino masculinity is rooted in neoliberal multiculturalism heteropatriarchy and anti Blackness and that even such empowerment programs can unintentionally reproduce attitudes that paint Latino boys as problematic and in need of control and containment An insightful gender analysis Good Boys Bad Hombres sheds light on how mentorship is a reaction to the alleged crisis of Latino boys and is governed by the perceived remedies of the neoliberal state Documenting the ways Latino men and boys resist the politics of neoliberal empowerment for new visions of justice Singh works to deconstruct male empowerment arguing that new narratives and practices beyond patriarchal redemption are necessary for a reimagining of Latino manhood in schools and beyond Red Brick in the Land of Steady Habits Bruce M. A History of Southland College Thomas Kennedy, 2009-11 In 1864 Alida and

Calvin Clark two abolitionist members of the Religious Society of Friends from Indiana went on a mission trip to Helena Arkansas The Clarks had come to render temporary relief to displaced war orphans but instead found a lifelong calling During their time in Arkansas they started the school that became Southland College which was the first institution of higher education for blacks west of the Mississippi and they set up the first predominately black monthly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends in North America Their progressive racial vision was continued by a succession of midwestern Quakers willing to endure the primitive conditions and social isolation of their work and to overcome the persistent challenges of economic adversity social strife and natural disaster Southland s survival through six difficult and sometimes dangerous decades reflects both the continuing missionary zeal of the Clarks and their successors as well as the dedication of the black Arkansans who sought dignity and hope at a time when these were rare commodities for African Americans in Arkansas
