Human Resource Management Practices in Selected Ethiopian Private Companies: A Study to Increase Employee Productivity in Ethiopia Dirk J. van Wasbeek, 2004-09-24 This dissertation examines how human resources are managed at selected Ethiopian private companies how Ethiopian human resource management practice is evolving and how it can be improved The examination is qualitative and exploratory since no comparative research on human resource management has yet been conducted at Ethiopian profit or non profit organizations An understanding of Ethiopian human resource management practice makes it possible to improve Ethiopian human resource management practice and thus to increase employee productivity The study took place at four manufacturing and four service companies in Addis Ababa all representative of their sector The research claim is that Ethiopian human resource management practices differ from human resource management practices in the West due to differences in cultural factors economic systems political systems and legal and industrial relations For this reason Ethiopia s culture politics economy and legal and industrial relations have been analyzed The main finding of this study is that the importance of human resource management is not uniformly understood at all the case study companies Although the multinational companies based in Ethiopia see their human resources as the companies most important asset as human capital the local companies generally do not The fact that respondents claim that Ethiopia has limited experience in industrialization might explain why human resource management in Ethiopia is rudimentary and still has a long way to go With this dissertation the researcher wants to contribute to improving Ethiopian human resource management practice Moreover this dissertation may be used as a framework for similar research in other sectors or for more specific in depth research This dissertation may also serve as a knowledge base for company managers

Delivery Innovative Management Practices St martin Institute of Business Management, Selection of Candidates as a Function of Human Resources Management in the Company Darko Lugonja,2011-08 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance University of Zagreb Institute of Economics course MBA Human resources management and development language English abstract

Contemporary business management is based on management of resources particularly human resources Planning recruiting and selecting candidates are key human resource functions Business leaders are continuously engaged in the process of reconsidering roles and goals managing the business in the most appropriate way Selection based upon internal candidates recruitment was a rule in a lack of certain employees profiles But solving the human resources insufficiency problem we often refocus our attention to external candidates recruitment and selection Besides contacts and colaboration with media and recruitment agencies we also need strengthening of our own potentials Selection through our own human resource department or engagement of selection agency professionals is a routine but when we have to cope with several constraints like human resources and financial resources limits then we have to rely on selection approach more flexible and adaptive to occasions Media support at least an adequate Internet promotion lead to rising number of candidates applications But choice of the right candidate is the art we have to accept the fact 3 C concept Cost communication and concept itself may help in improvising our candidate selection process Internet ensures wide communication to candidates through social networks and Internet generally but is not enough when focusing our attention to candidates and their potential In order to ensure choosing the right one or at least to follow the rule not to choose the wrong candidate nor to exclude the right one Systematic approach ensures planned results and candidates choices so we have to be aware of the fact that further development and fo
