current U S law Most initiatives intended to assist those who must migrate are flawed and ineffective from inception because they are derived from outmoded policies In a world of climate change U S refugee policy simply does not work Garcia focuses on Central America and the Caribbean where natural disasters have repeatedly worsened poverty inequality and domestic and international political tensions She explains that the creation of better U S policy for those escaping disasters is severely limited by the 1980 Refugee Act which continues to be applied almost exclusively for reasons of persecution directly related to politics race religion and identity Garcia contends that the United States must transform its outdated migration policies to address today s realities Climate change and natural disasters are here to stay and much of the human devastation left in their wake is essentially a policy choice

Incarcerating the Crisis Jordan T. Camp,2016-04-18 The United States currently has the largest prison population on the planet Over the last four decades structural unemployment concentrated urban poverty and mass homelessness have also become permanent features of the political economy These developments are without historical precedent but not without historical explanation In this searing critique Jordan T Camp traces the rise of the neoliberal carceral state through a series of turning points in U S history including the Watts insurrection in 1965 the Detroit rebellion in 1967 the Attica uprising in 1971 the Los Angeles revolt in 1992 and events in post Katrina New Orleans in 2005 Incarcerating the Crisis argues that these dramatic events coincided with the emergence of neoliberal capitalism and the state s attempts to crush radical social movements Through an examination of the poetic visions of social movements including those by James Baldwin Marvin Gaye June Jordan Jos Ram rez and Sunni Patterson it also suggests that alternative outcomes have been and continue to be possible

Boxing Mattered is a fact based history of boxing covering the classic era from 1880 to 1980 Beginning with John L Sullivan and the bare knuckle beginnings of the modern sport the author takes the reader through all the greats and some of the not so greats who make up the fascinating history of professional boxing The book utilizes a decade by decade approach focusing on the original eight weight divisions All timers Jack Johnson Stanley Ketchel Joe Gans Barbados Joe Walcott Jack Dempsey Willie Pep Sugar Ray Robinson Rocky Marciano Panama Al Brown Archie Moore and Muhammad Ali as well as many many more are covered in detail aided by historical photographs The author also takes on the various sanctioning bodies that govern professional boxing and whom he feels have had a largely negative influence on the Sweet Science The Washington Post Index, 2008

The Political Philosophy of Internal Displacement Jamie Draper, David Owen, 2025-05-15 The situation of internally displaced persons has been a matter of international concern and legal debate since at least the late 1990s and early 2000s and its salience has only increased in the context of extreme weather events produced by intensifying climate change Research in political philosophy however has so far barely touched on this issue despite its close connection to and relevance for lively and expansive debates on migration refugees territorial rights state sovereignty and climate change This volume aims to set the philosophical agenda for articulating a political ethics of internal displacement and to highlight the importance of the phenomenon for these wider theoretical issues Across 12 chapters that explore different aspects of internal displacement authors working at the forefront of these debates construct a compelling research agenda for the political philosophy of internal displacement The Early Portuguese Settlers in Mattapoisett, MA

Charcoal, Food, and Water Production in the Tropics: Applying Nexus Thinking to Improve Research and Policy Approaches in Complex Landscapes Tuyeni Heita Mwampamba, Adrian Ghilardi, Rob Bailis, 2020-02-04 Editorial Tuyeni H Mwampamba Rob Bailis Adrian Ghilardi Urbanization food and water consumption trends in many tropical countries show that demand for charcoal as a source of cooking energy meat grain and water will rise to proportions that surpass the ability of existing ecosystems to supply these services simultaneously and at desired qualities Consequently drastic changes to policy and practice are needed to improve ecosystem potential and or alter demand trends Traditional charcoal production in sub Saharan Africa South East Asia and Latin America often competes or co exists with livestock keeping and agriculture and has a tendency to occur in water limited woodlands The co occurrence of charcoal and food production results in complex landscapes characterized by strong interactions between subsystems managed by multiple sets of actors with potentially competing objectives These social ecological systems provide goods and services that are essential to millions of people throughout the global south Nevertheless there have been very few detailed studies of such systems particularly on the individual and combined effects of charcoal crop and livestock production on the hydrological system that maintains them and vice versa As a result these multi use landscapes are typically managed by short sighted highly generalized mono sectorial policies that ignore important tradeoffs and undercapitalize on synergies A system level approach could provide important insights that improve and expand current understanding of this energy food water nexus Tackling urgent and complex problems composed of multiple and interrelated factors lies at the heart of nexus thinking an approach that examines the inter relatedness and interdependencies of environmental resources and their transitions and fluxes across spatial scales and between compartments UNU FLORES 2015 and relies on interdisciplinary research and multi sector policy teams It has attracted significant interest from international organizations the private sector and governments as a way to develop integrated equitable solutions that involve inputs from multiple stakeholders However this approach is notably absent in the research arena Identifying appropriate interventions for achieving sustainable charcoal and food production and maintaining the underlying hydrological system on which they depend requires that the systems are considered simultaneously and that their biophysical social and political inter relations are well understood Taking charcoal as the nexus entry point this Research Topic aims to generate new understanding of charcoal production systems by incorporating agriculture and hydrology into the matrix We were interested in empirical articles reviews meta analytical articles and perspective papers that address at least two of the three nexus components and which offer provocative and insightful perspectives into the nexus as a whole We hope that this Research Topic will 1 facilitate identification of research gaps policy opportunities and priorities for the nexus 2 kick start the development of a community of researchers and practitioners working on the nexus and 3 permit the development of a research agenda that explores the nexus globally across multiple study sites
