

How to introduce yourself in the interview?

You're in the reception of your dream company for a job interview, dressed in the best formal you had with good hair and polished shoes, but one thing in mind will you be able to crack this interview and get this JOB?

These happen almost to everyone and it is very common. Few things are quite as dismaying as job interviews. You approach them knowing that unless you match the employer's expectations you're not going to land that sweet gig. Luckily, there are plenty of things you can do to ensure you'll make a good impression when the stakes are high. Below are few points that one should ponder while giving any interview.

- Introduce yourself to the interviewer in a professional way.
- Be straight and valid when describing you in a job interview.
- Practice your reply but make one thing sure it should be natural and not sound rehearsed.
- Tell the only information you want to convey. Begin by talking about past job experiences and achievement.
- Mention your strengths and abilities.
- Days before the interview check the details of the desired company properly on company's website and glassdoor.
- Make sure you avoid politics or anything potentially divisive.
- Tell them how your skills have made a distinction in your professional life.

And at last let's talk about what you don't have to tell the interviewer when they ask you "Tell Me Some Thing About Yourself". Most people get nervous & they don't

A Latina in the Land of Hollywood and Other Essays on Media Culture Angharad N. Valdivia, 2000-03 From ads for Victoria s Secret to the character roles of Rosie Perez the mass media have been defining race and femininity In this diverse set of essays Angharad N Valdivia breaks theoretical and methodological boundaries by exploring the relationship of the media to various audiences Throughout A Latina in the Land of Hollywood we are challenged to think differently about the media messages we often unconsciously consume such as the popular representations of certain Latina cultural icons Valdivia shows how reporters focus on Guatemalan activist Rigoberta Menchú's big smile Brazilian media magnate Xuxa's blonde hair and Puerto Rican actress Rosie Perez's high pitched voice never quite creating a comprehensive portrayal of these women In her discussion of lingerie catalogs Valdivia uncovers a similarly skewed depiction The lush high class bedrooms of Victoria's Secret differ as much from the earthy spare world of Frederick's of Hollywood as the types sizes and uses of the lingerie that the two companies sell Valdivia takes a look at family films arguing that single mothers are almost always portrayed as either trappy floozies or sexless hapless women whereas single dads fare much better Whether examining one teenager's likes and dislikes or considering single parenthood in family films Valdivia investigates how popular culture has become the arena in which we struggle to know ourselves and to make ourselves known She calls for scholars to move beyond investigating implicit themes in films and media to studying the ways that audiences of different colors ages genders and sexual preferences might understand or misunderstand such cultural messages A Latina in the Land of Hollywood aims to explode traditional discussions of media and popular culture It is a must read for anyone interested in popular culture television and film
