English as a Language of Learning, Teaching and Inclusivity Liesel Hibbert,2023-08-18 Hibbert explores South Africa s higher education crisis utilising case studies and first hand experiences with English as the language of instruction The historical overview provides a framework with which to understand the complicated nature of using English as a language of instruction in South Africa past and present Student narratives are presented to illustrate mainly breakthroughs but also challenges An overview is provided of imported English teaching methodologies and how they have emerged and developed in the local educational system over decades It is demonstrated how these methodologies relate to socio economic and political events and trends at each juncture By applying defamiliarisation as a research method of investigation students translanguaging struggles are recorded and discussed both pre pandemic and in the pandemic period The experiences of non monolingual English speaking staff and students and of local English African language bilinguals is foregrounded as they are by far the majority in South African higher education and schools The relevance of the experiences and learning paths of those staff and students is enhanced This book aids lecturers across disciplines and English language facilitators in the improvement of English acquisition curricula through exposure to arguments case studies and learning path narratives in this volume and prompts and inspires researchers to develop further theories and experiments in their own context

Future-Proofing Teacher Education Sarah Gravett,Nadine Petersen,2022-07-22 This book presents a variety of perspectives on teacher education for a fast changing world It deepens the discourse on teacher education and specifically considers teacher education in light of the technological advancements of the Fourth Industrial Revolution as well as education in times of uncertainty Drawing on examples from South Africa and showcasing international authors the book offers a nuanced evaluation of how teacher education might adapt for the future It explores the tension between the perennial in education and the unpredictability of the future and asks the question of how teacher education can contend with these tensions and how teachers can prepare for unexpected circumstances Chapters draw on the science of learning and foreground lessons learned from the abrupt move of teacher education online due to the COVID 19 pandemic The book invokes these themes to reimagine and strengthen teacher education for the future presenting reports on research case studies and theoretical stances Future Proofing Teacher Education explores what is relevant in teacher education in the 21st century and will be a key reading for researchers academics and post graduate students of teacher education technology in education and digital education Focus on First Year Success Brenda Leibowitz, Antoinette Van der Merwe, Susan Van Schalkwyk, 2009-11-01 The importance of the first year experience is now well recognised This collection of papers makes a fascinating and important contribution to our understanding of students transition to higher education This is a scholarly engaging and illuminating text that is relevant not only in the context of South Africa but for anyone interested in student learning in the first year of university education David Gosling Plymouth University Rethinking Language Use in Digital Africa Leketi Makalela, Goodith White, 2021-06-23 This book challenges the view that digital communication in Africa is limited and relatively unsophisticated and questions the assumption that digital communication has a damaging effect on indigenous African languages The book applies the principles of Digital African Multilingualism DAM in which there are no rigid boundaries between languages The book charts a way forward for African languages where greater attention is paid to what speakers do with the languages rather than what the languages look like and offers several models for language policy and planning based on horizontal and user based multilingualism The chapters demonstrate how digital communication is being used to form and sustain communication in many kinds of online groups including for political activism and creating poetry and offer a paradigm of language merging online that provides a practical blueprint for the decolonization of African languages through digital platforms This book is open access under a CC BY NC ND licence Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, X-kit Achieve! Impi Yabomdabu Isethunjini L Mjiyako, This note is part of Quality testing South African national bibliography State Library (South Africa), 1996 Classified list with author and title index A Hidden History of Youth Development in South Africa Margaret Perrow, 2021-03-15 Drawing on two decades of interviews and ethnographic fieldwork 1998 2018 this book presents a unique and multi faceted history of youth development in South Africa through the lens of a South African non governmental organization NGO prominent in youth development from the mid 1980s until 2008 The book weaves history ethnography and discourse analysis to contextualize the Joint Enrichment Project JEP in the politics and history of South African education It examines JEP s role leading up to and during South Africa's transition to democracy its work and influence in post apartheid South Africa and the continued relevance of its legacy to contemporary initiatives seeking to address youth development and social justice While JEP repeatedly repositioned itself as an organization from fighting the effects of apartheid on young people to becoming a potential partner with the new African National Congress ANC led government its most significant role may have been to reposition people After tracing JEP's twenty year history the book focuses on the participants in a 1998 Youth Work Scheme exploring their learning experiences and the program's immediate impact on their lives It then revisits these participants twenty years later in 2018 analyzing their life trajectories after JEP and comparing them with the life trajectories of former JEP staff over the same period shedding light on broader patterns of socio economic reproduction and change in the country The book concludes with a discussion of a perennial paradox facing youth development institutions This book will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of education international development anthropology and African studies

Decolonising Multilingualism in Africa Finex Ndhlovu, Leketi Makalela, 2021-07-16 This book interrogates and problematises African multilingualism as it is currently understood in language education and research It challenges the enduring colonial matrices of power hidden within mainstream conceptions of multilingualism that have been propagated in the Global North and then exported to the Global South under the aegis of colonial modernity and pretensions of universal epistemic relevance The book contributes new points of method theory and interpretation that will advance scholarly conversations on decolonial epistemology by introducing the notion of coloniality of language a summary term that describes the ways in which notions of language and multilingualism in post colonial societies remain colonial The authors begin the process of mapping out what a socially realistic notion of multilingualism would look like if we took into account the voices of marginalised and ignored African communities of practice both on the African continent and in the diasporas

Designing and Delivering Distance Education, 2004 Political Communication in Sub-Saharan Africa, Volume II Isaac Mhute, Esther Mavengano, 2024-12-02 This book is one of two volumes that examines the role of political communication media and language in transforming politics governance and democracy in sub Saharan Africa Interdisciplinary in approach this second volume analyses themes including political advertising and rhetoric activism populism fake news and political violence Combining theoretical work with individual case studies on countries including Tanzania South Africa Zimbabwe Nigeria and Ghana the book highlights the important connection between political communication and governance and the ways in which language reforms can help to overcome challenges related to public administration It will appeal to all those interested in public policy public administration governance and political communication as well as linguistics media studies and African politics
