Through a broad range of case studies spanning from imperial monuments to rural residences Malayan Classicism puts forward a fundamentally new understanding of classical architecture in the Asian colonial context Across Malaysia and Singapore thousands of historic buildings are richly ornamented with motifs drawn from Ancient Greece and Rome as plump volutes lush acanthus leaves and neat rows of dentils decorate mosques palaces government buildings and innumerable terraced shophouses These classical details jostle with ideas drawn from other architectural traditions from across Asia in a style that is unique to the region Presenting the first comprehensive account of what was prior to World War II Malaya s most widespread architectural style Malayan Classicism explores how the classical architecture of the British Empire was transmitted translated and transformed in the hands of local builders and architects Addressing a critical gap in the scholarship this book charts the metamorphosis of an imperial language of power into a local vernacular style and provides a new way of reading classical architecture in a post colonial context that will be applicable throughout the Global South

The Secrets of Architectural Composition Nathaniel Cortland Curtis,2013-09-02 Well arranged logical and aptly illustrated this classic survey covers every aspect of the design process It addresses architectural principles as well as their practical application examining general questions of scale balance proportion and symmetry and presenting detailed treatments of doors windows walls stairways columns and other features Long acknowledged as a valuable resource for students and teachers alike this volume is unsurpassed in terms of the richness of its material and the consistency of its insights It was written by Nathaniel Cortlandt Curtis an influential designer and artist who served as the head of the Tulane School of Architecture Curtis illustrated his work with nearly 250 line drawings that depict architectural elements from a splendid variety of periods and settings from ancient Rome s temples and palaces to modern day hotels and museums of Paris and New York Better By Design? Paul L. Knox,2020-10 The design professions architecture city planning landscape architecture and urban design share a great deal in terms of intellectual antecedents professional ideals and praxis In particular they share a commitment to creating better cities whether at the scale of buildings neighborhoods or city regions But who decides what constitutes a good city and how should such an ideal be implemented In Better by Design Paul Knox explores the intellectual roots of the design professions showing how architects planners and other designers have traditionally interpreted their roles and implemented their ideas in cities across North America and the UK Drawing on his long record of research and award winning publications on the social production of the built environment Knox offers a critical appraisal of their ultimate effectiveness in achieving the goal of creating and sustaining good cities Origins, Imitation, Conventions James S. Ackerman, 2002-03-29 Twelve studies by eminent art historian James S Ackerman This collection contains studies written by art historian James Ackerman over the past decade Whereas Ackerman's earlier work assumed a development of the arts as they responded to social economic political and cultural change his recent work reflects the poststructural critique of the presumption of progress that characterized Renaissance and modernist history and criticism In this book he explores the tension between the authority of the past which may act not only as a restraint but as a challenge and stimulus and the potentially liberating gift of invention He examines the ways in which artists and writers on art have related to ancestors and to established modes of representation as well as to contemporary experiences The origins studied here include the earliest art history and criticism the beginnings of architectural drawing in the Middle Ages and Renaissance Leonardo Da Vinci's sketches for churches the first in the Renaissance to propose supporting domes on sculpted walls and piers and the first architectural photographs Imitation refers to artistic achievements that in part depended on the imitation of forms established in practices outside the fine arts such as ancient Roman rhetoric and print media Conventions like language facilitate communication between the artist and viewer but are both more universal understood across cultures and more fixed resisting variation that might diminish their clarity The three categories are closely linked throughout the book as most acts of representation partake to some degree of all three The Routledge Handbook on the Reception of Classical Architecture Nicholas Temple, Andrzej Piotrowski, Juan Manuel Heredia, 2019-11-01 This is the first comprehensive study of the reception of classical architecture in different regions of the world Exploring the impact of colonialism trade slavery religious missions political ideology and intellectual artistic exchange the authors demonstrate how classical principles and ideas were disseminated and received across the globe By addressing a number of contentious or unresolved issues highlighted in some historical surveys of architecture the chapters presented in this volume question long held assumptions about the notion of a universally accepted classical tradition and its broadly Euro centric perspective Featuring thirty two chapters written by international scholars from China Europe Turkey North America Mexico Australia and New Zealand the book is divided into four sections 1 Transmission and re conceptualisation of classical architecture 2 Classical influence through colonialism political ideology and religious conversion 3 Historiographical surveys of geographical regions and 4 Visual and textual discourses This fourfold arrangement of chapters provides a coherent structure to accommodate different perspectives of classical reception across the world and their geographical ethnographic ideological symbolic social and cultural contexts Essays cover a wide geography and include studies in Italy France England Scotland the Nordic countries Greece Austria Portugal Romania Germany Poland India Singapore China the USA Mexico Brazil New Zealand and Australia Other essays in the volume focus on thematic issues or topics pertaining to classical architecture such as ornament spolia humanism nature moderation decorum heresy and taste An essential reference guide
