Handbook on the Geographies of Money and Finance Ron Martin, Jane Pollard, 2017-03-31 The aim of this timely work which appears in the wake of the worst global financial crisis since the late 1920s is to bring together high quality research based contributions from leading international scholars involved in constructing a geographical perspective on money. Topics covered include the crisis the spatial circuits of finance regulation mainstream financial markets banking equity etc through to the various alternative and disruptive forms of money that have arisen in recent years. It will be of interest to geographers political scientists sociologists economists planners and all those interested in how money shapes and reshapes socio economic space and conditions local and regional development India's Maritime Strategy Shishir

Upadhyaya, 2019-09-05 The first book by a former Indian naval intelligence officer on Sino India relations. India's Maritime Strategy provides a unique insight into the Indian Navy tracing its post independence growth and discussing its transformation and future in the 21st century. In the context of the rise of China's maritime power in the Indian Ocean this book provides a nuanced view of the extent and scope of India's maritime reach and the effect of this on Sino Indian competition. Challenging the view that by developing a favourable environment alone India could seek to maintain its balance of power with China it is argued that despite durable bilateral security ties with most regional states India's maritime aspirations to be the primary net security provider for the region are unsustainable in the long term. This book presents a comprehensive coverage of India's bilateral maritime security engagements with all the Indian Ocean regional states as well as the US France UK and Russia. As such it will be useful to students and scholars of Indian and South Asian politics international relations and maritime security The Power of Geographical Thinking Clare Brooks, Graham Butt, Mary

Fargher, 2017-03-02 In this book geography educators from around the globe discuss their research into the power of geographical thinking and consider successful strategies to implement improve and advance geography education in research and practice. It addresses key topics in geography education such as multicultural competence the role of teachers the geography curriculum spatial thinking geographic information systems geocapabilities and climate change. At a global level the contributors and editors bring together the most advanced collection of research and discussion surrounding issues in geography education. The book will be of interest to geography education researchers worldwide including academics at university and teachers in schools as well as professional geographers with an interest in education The Great Music

City Andrea Baker, 2019-03-01 In the 1960s as gentrification took hold of New York City Jane Jacobs predicted that the city would become the true player in the global system Indeed in the 21st century more meaningful comparisons can be made between cities than between nations and states Based on case studies of Melbourne Austin and Berlin this book is the first in depth study to combine academic and industry analysis of the music cities phenomenon Using four distinctly defined algorithms as benchmarks it interrogates Richard Florida's creative cities thesis and applies a much needed synergy of urban sociology and musicology to the concept mediated by a journalism lens Building on seminal work by Robert Park Lewis Mumford and Jane Jacobs it argues that journalists are the cultural branders and street theorists whose ethnographic approach offers critical insights into the urban sociability of music activity

Our Social World Jeanne H. Ballantine, Keith A. Roberts, Kathleen Odell Korgen, 2016-11-30 Inspire your students to develop their sociological imaginations in Our Social World Focused on deep learning rather than memorization this book encourages readers to analyze evaluate and apply information about the social world to see the connection between the world and personal events from a new perspective and to confront sociological issues on a day to day basis Organized around the Social World Model a conceptual framework used across chapters to see the complex links between various micro to macro levels of the social system students will develop the practice of using three levels of analysis and to view sociology as an integrated whole rather than a set of discrete subjects

The Complacent Class Tyler Cowen, 2017-02-28 A Wall Street Journal and Washington Post Bestseller Tyler Cowen's blog Marginal Revolution is the first thing I read every morning And his brilliant new book The Complacent Class has been on my nightstand after I devoured it in one sitting I am at round the clock Cowen saturation right now Malcolm Gladwell Since Alexis de Tocqueville restlessness has been accepted as a signature American trait Our willingness to move take risks and adapt to change have produced a dynamic economy and a tradition of innovation from Ben Franklin to Steve Jobs The problem according to legendary blogger economist and best selling author Tyler Cowen is that Americans today have broken from this tradition we're working harder than ever to avoid change We're moving residences less marrying people more like ourselves and choosing our music and our mates based on algorithms that wall us off from anything that might be too new or too different Match.com matches us in love Spotify and Pandora match us in music Facebook matches us to just about everything else Of course this matching culture brings tremendous positives music we like partners who make us happy neighbors who want the same things We're more comfortable But according to Cowen there are significant collateral downsides attending this comfort among them heightened inequality and segregation and decreased incentives to innovate and create The Complacent Class argues that this cannot go on forever We are postponing change due to our near sightedness and extreme desire for comfort but ultimately this will make change when it comes harder The forces unleashed by the Great Stagnation will eventually lead to a major fiscal and budgetary crisis impossibly expensive rentals for our most attractive cities worsening of residential segregation and a decline in our work ethic The only way to avoid this difficult future is for Americans to force themselves out of their comfortable slumber to embrace their restless tradition again

Handbook of Emerging 21st-Century Cities Kris Bezdecny, Kevin Archer, 2018-11-30 The majority of the world's population now live in cities nearly a quarter of which boast populations of one million or more The rise of globalisation has granted cities unprecedented significance both politically and economically leading to benefits and problems at national and international levels The Handbook of Emerging 21st Century Cities explores the changes that are occurring in cities and the impacts that they are having at the local national and global scale

Externalizing Migration Management Ruben Zaiotti, 2016-02-05 The extension of border controls beyond a country's territory to regulate the flows of migrants before they arrive has become a popular and highly controversial policy practice Today remote control policies are more visible complex and widespread than ever before raising various ethical political and legal issues for the governments promoting them The book examines the externalization of migration control from an interdisciplinary and comparative perspective focusing on remote control initiatives in Europe and North America with contributions from the fields of politics sociology law geography anthropology and history This book uses empirically rich analyses and compelling theoretical insights to trace the evolution of remote control initiatives and assesses their impact and policy implications It also explores competing theoretical models that might explain their emergence and diffusion Individual chapters tackle some of the most puzzling questions underlying remote control policies such as the reasons why governments adopt these policies and what might be their impact on migrants and other actors involved

International Arbitration in the Energy Sector Maxi Scherer, 2018-02-22 Disputes in the energy and natural resources sector are at the heart of international arbitration With more arbitrations arising in the international energy sector than in any other sector it is not surprising that the highest valued awards in the history of arbitration come from energy related arbitrations Energy disputes often involve complex and controversial issues relating to security sovereignty and public welfare International Arbitration in the Energy Sector puts international energy disputes into a global context providing broad coverage of different forms and systems of dispute resolution across both renewable and non renewable sectors With contributions from leading arbitrators academics and industry experts from across the globe the twenty chapters in the book enable readers to compare the approaches to and learnings from energy arbitrations across various legal systems and geographic regions After outlining the international energy arbitration legal framework in Part I the text delves into a detailed analysis of the problems which regularly arise in practice These include among other things commercial disputes in Part II e.g. over the upstream oil sector and long term gas supply contracts investor state disputes in

Part III e g under the Energy Charter Treaty and public international law disputes in Part IV e g concerning international boundaries and the distribution of natural resources Alongside recent developments in the international energy sector attention is given to climate and sustainable development disputes which raise important questions about enforcing sustainability objectives on individuals corporations and states Backed by analyses of arbitral awards national court and international tribunal decisions treaties and other international legal instruments as well as current events and news in the energy industry this text offers a unique contribution to international energy literature and provides insightful commentary on the prevalent issues in the field It is essential reading for any practitioner or researcher in the energy and natural resources sector

Sharing Cities Shaping Cities Giuseppe Salvia,Eugenio Morello,Andrea Arcidiacono,2019-05-28 The sharing economy and collaborative consumption are attracting a great deal of interest due to their business legal and civic implications The consequences of the spreading of practices of sharing in urban environments and under daily dynamics are underexplored This Special Issue aims to address if and how sharing shapes cities the way that spaces are designed and lived in if social interactions are escalated and the ways that habits and routines take place in post individualistic society In particular the following key questions are of primary interest Urban fabric How is sharing shaping cities Does it represent a paradigm shift with tangible and physical reverberations on urban form How are shared mobility work inhabiting reconfiguring the urban and social fabric Social practices Are new lifestyles and practices related to sharing changing the use and design of spaces To what extent is sharing triggering a production and consumption paradigm shift to be reflected in urban arrangements and infrastructures Sustainability Does sharing increase the intensity of use of space and assets or rather does it increase them to meet the expectations of convenience for urban lifestyles To what extent are these phenomena fostering more economically socially and environmentally sustainable practices and cities Policy How can policy makers and municipalities interact with these bottom up and phenomena and grassroots innovation to create more sustainable cities Scholars responded to the above questions from the fields of urban studies urban planning and design sociology geography theoretically grounded and informed by the results of fieldwork activities of Development brings together cutting edge perspectives on socio political socio historical and institutional analyses of the evolving multiple and intertwined financialization processes of developmental institutions programs and policies In recent years the development landscape has seen a radical transformation in the partaking actors which have moved beyond just multilateral or bilateral public development banks and aid agencies The issue of financing for sustainable development is now at the top of the agenda for multilateral development actors Increasingly development institutions aim to include private actors and to lever in private money to support development projects Drawing on case studies conducted in Africa Asia Europe and Latin America this book examines the ways in which these private finance actors are enrolled and associated with the conception and implementation of development policies Beginning with a focus on global actors and private foundations this book considers the ways in which development funding is raised managed and distributed as well as debates at the center of global forums where financialized policies and solutions for development are conceived or discussed The book assembles empirical research on development programs and demonstrates the social consequences of the financializations of development to the people on the ground Highlighting the plurality of processes and outcomes of modern day relations tools actors and practices in financing development around the world this book is key reading for advanced students researchers and practitioners in all areas of finance development and sustainability

Anti-Corruption and its Discontents Grant W. Walton, 2017-08-03 The fight against corruption is now a core part of development policy and practice Some call these efforts a war on corruption What does this so called war mean for developing countries And how do international perspectives on corruption relate to local and national concerns This book examines the relevance of anti corruption discourse in Papua New Guinea PNG one of the most culturally rich and corrupt countries on earth Despite increased international national and local efforts to address corruption over the past two decades many fear that levels of corruption continue to rise largely unabated Some believe that the mismatch between international national and local assumptions regarding the nature of corruption and how it should be addressed is at the heart of the issue International anti corruption initiatives stress zero tolerance and try to strengthen formal state based institutions However many people in PNG are more concerned about maintaining social relationships than following state laws and rules This book critically examines the implications of the anti corruption agenda and the collision of international national and local perspectives In doing so it provides a diagnostic on international assumptions about corruption and how it should be fought in developing countries offering surprising and important lessons This book is essential reading for scholars and students of Development Studies Geography Political Studies and Economics as well as practitioners and policy makers working in development
