Geography March Paper 24:

The Walking Dead at Saqqara Lara Weiss,2022-06-21 Funerary rituals and the cult of the dead are classics of research in religious studies especially for ancient Egypt Still we know relatively little about how people interacted in daily life at the city of Memphis and its Saqqara necropolis in the late second millennium BCE By focussing on lived ancient religion we can see that the social and religious strategies employed by the individuals at Saqqara are not just means on the way to religious post mortem salvation nor is their self representation simply intended to manifest social status On the contrary the religious practices at Saqqara show in their complex spatiality a wide spectrum of options to configure sociality before and after one s own death The analytical distinction between religion and other forms of human practices and sociality illuminates the range of cultural practices and how people selected modified or even avoided certain religious practices As a result pre funerary funerary and practices of the subsequent mortuary cults in close connection with religious practices directed towards other ancestors and deities allow the formation of imagined and functioning reminiscence clusters as central social groups at Saqqara creating a heuristic model applicable also to other contexts

Geographers Elizabeth Baigent,André Reyes Novaes,2018-11-15 Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 explores the concept of distinction in geography Through the lives of six geographers working in Brazil North America Europe and R union it investigates what distinction consists of how we identify and celebrate it and how it relates to quotidian practices in the discipline The volume highlights the continuing importance of biography and the International Geographical Union in recording and assessing distinction It also considers the relevance of personal networks for the circulation and translation of distinguished geographical knowledge and how this knowledge can underpin applied projects and critical appraisal of geographical scholarship both at a national and sub national level Gendered notions of distinction are also addressed particularly through June Sheppard who found limited recognition for her work as a result of gendered expectations within the discipline and society at large By reflecting on how we locate distinguished geographers and tell their histories Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 makes an important contribution to fostering less canonical work in historical geography
