Selected Topics in Midwifery Care Ana Polona Mivšek, 2019-02-08 Midwifery across the globe faces different issues In some countries the autonomy of the profession is a tradition while in some societies midwives struggle to practice autonomously the basic competencies In one part of the world the medicalisation of childbirth is the main issue preventing the natural processes of pregnancy and childbirth to flow at their own pace while in other parts of the world midwives struggle with lack of resources to provide safe midwifery care The authors of this book practice midwifery in different cultures and within different social contexts They have to deal with different obstacles and seek solutions to diverse problems With their contributions they offer an insight into their thinking their dilemmas and the problems of midwifery practices in their countries However despite different backgrounds they all have in common a uniform goal a wish to offer women optimal midwifery care and to improve midwifery services Gaffney's Local Government in South Africa, 2002 Health

Telematics Education John Mantas, 1997 This volume focuses on the activities on Health Telematics Education In Europe coordinated activities in healthcare informatics education started in the late 1980 s with the establishment of European Courses in Health Teematics At the same time the European Commission foresaw the need for spreading the knowledge of IT in the Healthcare Sector Therefore the EC since then have supported the initiatives that aim to create awareness stimulate diffusion educate and train the users healthcare professionals in the application of Information Technology to the Healthcare Sector Such an initiative is the NIGHTENGAL project which is an essential project in the planning and implementation of strategy timing the Nursing profession in using and applying healthcare information systems as well as the IT EDUCTRA project which covers a more wide spectrum of the Health Telematics Education The objective of this book is to promote the appropriate use of the developed Telematics infrastructure across Europe by educating and training healthcare professionals in a harmonising way across Europe in the upcoming field of Health and Nursing Informatics For achieving this objective the European Commission established a series of European Conferences on Health Telematics Education and Workshops by experts users developers and policymakers In this book the Proceedings of the first European Conference in Health Telematics Education HTE 96 organised by the NIGHTINGALE project and supported by the IT EDUCTRA project are included as well as the minutes and the presentations of the NIGHTINGALE Workshops Frontiers of Freedom, 1998

Federalism and Decentralization in Health Care Gregory P. Marchildon, Thomas J. Bossert, 2018-01-01 Looking at Canada Brazil Germany Mexico Nigeria Pakistan South Africa and Switzerland Federalism and Decentralization in Health Care examines the overall organization of the health system Migration and Health Sandro Galea, Catherine K. Ettman, Muhammad H. Zaman, 2022-11-25 A new introduction to a timeless dynamic how the movement of humans affects health everywhere International migrants compose more than three percent of the world s population and internal migrants those migrating within countries are more than triple that number Population migration has long been and remains today one of the central demographic shifts shaping the world around us The world s history and its health is shaped and colored by stories of migration patterns the policies and political events that drive these movements and narratives of individual migrants Migration and Health offers the most expansive framework to date for understanding and reckoning with human migration s implications for public health and its determinants It interrogates this complex relationship by considering not only the welfare of migrants but also that of the source destination and ensuing generation populations The result is an elevated interdisciplinary resource for understanding what is known and the considerable territory of what is not known at an intersection that promises to grow in importance and influence as the century unfolds

Geographies of Health and Development Rachel Bezner Kerr, Isaac Luginaah, 2016-03-03 The geographies of health and development is an emerging sub discipline tying in with many of the conceptual theoretical and practical components of other disciplines working in health health care economics and international development Spatially and theoretically grounded in geography this collection offers a fresh perspective on the dialectic relationships between health and development Health problems in a developing context take on much higher rates of prevalence as a result of the varied cultural structural and economic vulnerabilities of the people they impact This book begins by exploring some of the circumstances surrounding the distinctive health inequities currently facing many developing countries including malaria maternal mortality and HIV AIDS This is followed by a discussion of how matters of physical access and human resource issues and perhaps most importantly the challenges of financing together shape the access and utilization of health care Examining how the environment interacts to influence the health of the people that live there the next section includes discussion around challenges of food in security and the importance of clean and uncontaminated water for health Finally the book explores the influence of globalization on health specifically within the urban environment against the backdrop of global health policy

State of the Nation John Daniel, Adam Habib, Roger Southall, 2003 This anthology provides insightful political analysis of post apartheid South Africa Written by leading South African intellectuals these analyses cover topics such as unemployment trade unionism race relations land reform education international relations and the South Africanisation of the African economy Within each work the inherited apartheid legacy the policies introduced to overcome those legacies and the effectiveness of those policies are addressed

The Report: South Africa 2012, 2012 Chasing the Rainbow Anthea Jeffery, 2010 Annual Report Gauteng (South Africa). Department of Health, 2001 South African Labour Bulletin, 2006 South Africa Yearbook, 1998 Questions and Replies of the National Assembly South Africa. Parliament (1994-). National Assembly, 2002 Financial Mail, 2006-12 Health Expenditure and Finance in South Africa, 1995 State of Transition Clive Harber, 2001-01-01 The main purpose of this book is to provide a concise overview of educational transition to document discuss and analyse key changes and continuities in South African education since the end of apartheid What makes this period particularly fascinating for educationalists is that the legacy of apartheid and the years of international isolation

meant that educational reform had to be fundamental and wide ranging if South Africa was to become a modern democratic state participating in the global political economy of the twenty first century The result was that in the final five years of the twentieth century South Africa became something of a laboratory or crucible for educational innovation From 1948 to the early 1990s South African government was based on an institutionalised system of racial separation and inequality formally known as apartheid A white minority dominated a black majority in a context of stark social political and economic differentiation While the apartheid state used force to maintain this system formal education was also used to try to make the basic tenets of apartheid normal and acceptable in the minds of South Africans From the apartheid government s point of view the role of education was to help to perpetuate and reproduce a racist system and to encourage obedience and conformity to that system It is not therefore surprising that in the 1970s and 1980s education also became a key site in the struggle against apartheid or that educational reform was high on the agenda of the first democratically elected government after April 1994 However while the direction of educational reform has inevitably been strongly influenced by the nature and history of the anti apartheid struggle inside South Africa the global political and economic context has also played its part in shaping educational debate and policy outside South Africa Clive Harber s book recognises that there is a difference between planned reform and the actual nature of educational change on the ground and tries where possible to set reform in the contextual realities of South African education as they presently exist It aims to understand the difficulties and ambiguities of transition as well as the overt aims and goals as enshrined in policy documents and legislation
