VOCATIONAL ANALYSIS

The Mediation Analysis provided consistent insight into other areas for consideration. Based on major occupational categories suggested by the U.S. Department of Labor in writing its Dictionary of Occupational Titles, these areas are indicated on a graph to be most pertinent. The ranking is obtained by comparing the individual's score to the general population. Each major occupational area has three subareas: specific occupational titles which are also ranked to identify occupational potential. The way an individual fits within a field along with the occupational heading has a bearing on job status. Grouping occupational and occupational titles in the same group indicates the potential.
